Mourir les yeux ouverts Marie de Hennezel, 2005 L auteure s inspire de l exp rience d Yvan Amar qui s est battu pendant dix ans avec une maladie grave incurable et invalidante Elle m dite sur la fin de la vie et la fa on d assister ceux qui y sont confront s invitant vivre consciemment la relation l autre Legendary Figures Clayton Koelb, 1998-01-01 Legendary Figures examines revolutionary views of the past that have played a crucial role in European and American literature of the last 150 years Clayton Koelb traces these new approaches to history through an impressive range of novels from Flaubert s Salammb to Christa Wolf s Cassandra Koelb argues that this new historical sense which arose in the mid nineteenth century gained eloquent expression in Flaubert s writings What is crucial about the new historical sense is that it views the past as essentially alien and other The connection between past and present may be powerful but it is always indirect and difficult to negotiate As a result the past seems exotic and unattainable the object of nostalgia and desire Koelb distinguishes this sense of history with its persistent discontinuities between past and present from the more continuous and progressive views of history of novelists like Sir Walter Scott and such philosophers as Hegel Marx and Luk cs In their writings history proceeds according to the laws of cause and effect and each epoch can be understood as both the result of the previous one and the cause of the next In contrast the modernist writers that Koelb examines Flaubert Pater Mann Broch Wilder Yourcenar and Wolf imagine a past that is mythic and legendary and thus a metaphor for everything distant complicated unattainable and unknowable Marguerite Yourcenar: biographie, autobiographie Elena Real, 1988 L'enfant halluciné René-Jean Clot, 2014-04-01 Peintre et romancier Ren Jean Clot s est servi de sa double exp rience pour composer l mouvant personnage de Jean Bressy adolescent retard comme on dit la campagne qui vit d art et d amour exclusivement L amour c est celui passionn jaloux que Jean voue sa m re l hirondelle jeune veuve belle chaste et pauvre L art c est la peinture vers laquelle le porte cet lan irr pressible qu on appelle la vocation et qu il tudie sous la f rule d un g nie atrabilaire et m connu Ravot C tait fatal la m re et le ma tre se rencontrent un jour et cette jonction de ses deux univers bouleverse d abord le jeune homme Mais paradoxalement le choc se r v lera salutaire il permettra Jean de rompre le cordon ombilical qui le lie l hirondelle en m me temps qu il le poussera se d tacher de Ravot pour conqu rir son autonomie artistique L enfant promis l asile par les m decins est devenu un adulte quilibr Recueil d'ophtalmologie ... , 1886 Recueil d'ophtalmologie , 1886 Collected Poems in English and French Samuel Beckett, 1977 This collection gathers together the Nobel Prize winning writer Samuel Beckett s English poems including Whoroscope his first published verse English translations of poems by Eluard Rimbaud Apollinaire and Chamfort and poems in French several of which are presented in translation Les Oeuvres libres , 1922
Annales d'hygiène publique et de médecine légale Société d'hygiène publique, industrielle et sociale, 1887 Baroque Fictions Margaret Elizabeth Colvin, 2005 This volume is the first in depth study of the French novelist Marguerite Yourcenar s fiction to contend that the author's texts exhibit in unexpected ways numerous characteristics of the neobaroque. This subversive postmodern aesthetic privileges extravagant artistic play, flux and heterogeneity. In demonstrating the affinity of Yourcenar's texts with the neobaroque, the author of this study casts doubt on their presumed transparency and stability, qualities associated with the French neoclassical tradition of the past century where the Yourcenarian oeuvre is most often placed. Yourcenar's election to the prestigious tradition-bound French Academy in 1981 as its first female immortal cemented her already well-established niche in the twentieth-century French literary pantheon. A self-taught classicist, historian and modern-day French moralist, Yourcenar has been praised for her polished classical style and analyzed for her use of myth and universal themes. While those factors at first seem to justify amply the neoclassical label by which Yourcenar is most widely recognized, this study's close reading of four of her fictions reveals instead the texts' opacity and subversive resistance to closure, their rejection of stable interpretations and their deconstruction of postmodern Grand Narratives. There is a neobaroque logic which stresses the absence of theoretical assurances and the limitations of reason. The coincidence of the new millennium which in so many ways reflects Yourcenar's disquieting vision and her centenary in 2003 affords not so much an excuse to reject the author's neoclassical label but rather the obligation to reassess it in light of contemporary discourses. This study will be of interest to students of twentieth-century French fiction and comparative literature, especially that of the latter half of the twentieth century.

Que signifie bien vieillir en Afrique pour les personnes âgées vulnérables? Quelle est notre responsabilité pour ces personnes fragiles quand la globalisation de l'économie mondiale, les flux migratoires vers les métropoles occidentales, le contrôle des matières premières par des puissances industrielles et la fermeture des frontières des nations aux plus démunies tendent à mettre de côté la question de la vieillesse? Quel type d'utopie aidera les Africains à promouvoir une véritable éthique de la compassion? En effet, la question de la vieillesse en Afrique est avant tout une question existentielle et éthique, raison pour laquelle la solution ne passera pas par la pitoyable ventilation des soins médicaux mais par la prise en compte de la justice. Celle-ci remet l'ordre du jour la responsabilité, la sollicitude, la compassion et le problème du pacte intergénérationnel. En somme, travers la vieillesse, il s'agit d'interroger les traditions africaines sur le vivre ensemble, surtout dans la fragilité. Passant outre les divers débats autour du problème de la vieillesse en Afrique, cet ouvrage pose au regard des traditions africaines, en fonction de l'aventure coloniale, de la structuration des États postcoloniaux et de la présence d'ONG, cette question brûlante qu'en est-il du devoir de prendre soin des sujets et des communautés dans notre postmodernité? Et que veut dire prendre soin en Afrique? Embrassant les considérations anthropologiques et éthiques, l'auteur démontre comment la vulnérabilité des personnes âgées indique celle plus profonde des États, économies et sociétés africaines.
