Tim Burton is a very unique and well known director. Not by the amount of movies he does but by the way he uses the stylistic devices. No one like him uses these stylistic devices like he does. For example Tim Burton uses tone, characterization, and setting. He uses them very effectively in his movie Edward Scissorhand's.

For example, one kind of tone that Tim Burton used in Edward Scissorhand's was the neighborhood ladies. They were very gossipy and rude. You could tell that they were never taught etiquette. Once they saw a new person come to the neighborhood they would call one neighbor to the next. They would constantly harass Peg to see her visitor. Peg was a very neutral person that Tim Burton made she was very protective over Edward. They rudely came to her house and invited them to a barbeque that peg never was going to have. Once they met Edward and got their hands on him they were obsessed. They wouldn't leave him alone. Once one found another advantage that Edward could do with his Scissorhand's they would all copycat each other and use Edward. They were obsessed with him to the point where he had no more to give them and then they realized that and turned against him.

Moreover, an example of characterization that Tim Burton used was Edward. Tim Burton made Edward into this very unique character. He looked very gothic and creepy, but as soon as he talked his voice was so gentle and soft. His voice was so different that it was like it wasn't even him. He was sweet and had a etiquette personality with a gothic image. The only thing that Practical Approaches to Teaching Film Rachel S. Ritterbusch, 2020-07-24 Rachel Ritterbusch's Practical Approaches to Teaching Film is a collection of essays focusing on the use of film in settings ranging from an introductory film class to an upper division Women's Studies course. Drawing on their experience in the classroom, contributors to this anthology show how movies can be used to promote critical thinking, create an awareness of the male gaze, challenge dominant ideology, and unmask the constructedness of film. This volume treats a wide variety of film texts from box office hits like The Da Vinci Code to underappreciated art films such as Susan Streiffeld's Female Perversions from Ple Moko and other French classics to more contemporary francophone works like Chaos and Rosetta from self-reflexive films that interrogate the act of filmmaking itself to those that draw attention to the phallogentric nature of cinematic apparatus. Common to all these essays is the belief that if used judiciously, film can be a valuable pedagogical tool. Aimed both at those currently teaching film and those wishing to do so, this volume provides practical support in the form of sample syllabi, assignments, and a glossary of film terms.

From Mandate to Achievement Elaine Makas, 2009-09-14 This engaging book will guide your journey through the morass of curriculum alignment, development, and assessment. Our school struggled through missteps in curriculum alignment and implementing common assessments without the benefit of Makas' wisdom and experience. I highly recommend this book for teachers, administrators, and interested parents. Robert A. Martin, Leadership Consultant, Oakland Schools, Waterford, MI. Raise schoolwide performance with a systematic, teacher-driven approach to curriculum development. Purposeful curriculum design is essential to attaining consistent academic improvement. Educators often find, however, that a viable curriculum based on mandated standards can be exceedingly challenging to create, implement, and sustain. In this book, curriculum consultant Elaine Makas provides a step-by-step guide to establishing the processes and documents necessary to build a stable, cohesive curriculum system that aligns to educational benchmarks. Based on the DAILY model (Data Alignment, Instructional Pace, Guides, Local Common Assessment, and Yearly Review), this system deconstructs the curriculum process into sequential steps that facilitate the development of instructional priorities, reveal students in need of intervention, and help ensure continuous process improvement. With numerous templates, samples, and reflective exercises, this book clearly demonstrates how to collect and analyze data, identify expectations, and recognize learning gaps. Develop curriculum maps that align with standards and grade-level subject goals. Pace instruction throughout the year according to specific objectives. Create assessments that predict standardized test performance. Conduct yearly improvement reviews and documentation revisions. An essential resource for all schools or districts, whether struggling or successful, From Mandate to Achievement enables K-12 principals, district administrators, curriculum facilitators, and teacher teams to establish a consistent and accurate curriculum process that increases academic achievement and drives continuous school improvement. A Short Guide to Writing about Film Timothy Corrigan, 2004 This best-selling text is a succinct guide to thinking critically and writing precisely about film With numerous student and professional examples along the way this engaging and practical guide progresses from taking notes and writing first drafts to creating polished essays and comprehensive research projects Moving from movie reviews to theoretical and critical essays the text demonstrates how an analysis of a film becomes more subtle and rigorous as part of a compositional process Both an introduction to film study and a practical writing guide this brief text introduces students to film terms and the major film theories to enable them to write more critically For individuals who want to think and write critically about film Tracing the Impact of First-Year Writing Laura Wilder,2024-11-15

Tracing the Impact of First Year Writing presents the results of a large scale longitudinal study of college writers that explores the impact of a required first year writing course with a comparative approach not previously available Over five years Laura Wilder conducted 143 interviews with and collected 774 pages of writing from 58 students half of whom had taken a new first year writing course and half who had not Wilder found that while in many ways the experiences of both groups are comparable demonstrating how students receive valuable educations in rhetoric and writing from a variety of sources beyond a first year writing course students who took the first year writing course were much more likely to identify as writers This identification supported students use of writing in powerfully generative and knowledge building ways that they carried with them long after the course into other appropriate contexts In contrast to previous longitudinal studies of college writers undertaken at institutions with high prestige and resources Tracing the Impact of First Year Writing explores the role of writing at a regional public university and documents how students experiences with writing can be highly divergent across the curriculum and unequal across campuses Additionally this book includes the voices of students who do not identify as capable writers and have strongly negative emotional reactions to writing and writing instruction and adds empirical support to innovative calls in the field to transform the first year writing course into one that inspires students to reflectively consider writing itself Advances in Neural Information Processing Systems 19 Bernhard Schölkopf,John C.
