Le Temps De L'histoire:

Le Temps de l'histoire Philippe Ariès, 2014-05-25T00:00:00+02:00 Tout en conservant et en perfectionnant son outillage scientifique de recherche l'Histoire se conçoit comme un dialogue où le présent n'est jamais absent Elle abandonne cette indifférence que les maîtres d'autrefois s'efforçaient de lui imposer L'historien d'aujourd'hui reconnaît sans honte qu'il appartient au monde moderne et qu'il travaille à manifester et pondre aux inquiétudes qu'il partage de ses contemporains Son optique du passé demeure la même son présent un présent qui n'est pas seulement une référence de méthode D'ordinaire l'Histoire cesse d'être une science sereine et indifférente Elle s'ouvre au souci contemporain dont elle devient une manière d'être dans le temps de l'homme moderne A une civilisation qui limine les différences l'Histoire doit restituer le sens perdu des particularités Philippe Ariès Philippe Ariès 1914-1984 a critiqué notamment L'Enfant et la vie familiale sous l'Ancien régime et L'Homme devant la mort

T'oung-pao, 1893 The Latest Catastrophe Henry Rousso, 2016-07-06 The writing of recent history tends to be deeply marked by conflict by personal and collective struggles rooted in horrific traumas and bitter controversies Frequently today's historians can find themselves researching the same events that they themselves lived through This book reflects on the concept and practices of what is called contemporary history a history of the present time and identifies special tensions in the field between knowledge and experience distance and proximity and objectivity and subjectivity Henry Rousso addresses the rise of contemporary history and the relations of present day societies to their past especially their legacies of political violence Focusing on France Germany the United Kingdom and the United States he shows that for contemporary historians the recent past has become a problem to be solved No longer unfolding as a series of traditions to be respected or a set of knowledge to be transmitted and built upon history today is treated as a constant act of mourning or memory an attempt to atone Historians must also negotiate with strife within this field as older scholars who may have lived through events clash with younger historians who also claim to understand the experiences Ultimately The Latest Catastrophe shows how historians at times against their will have themselves become actors in a history still being made Between Memory and History Marie Noëlle Bourguet, Lucette Valensi, Nathan Wachtel, 2016-03-31 The recent wave of interest in oral history and return to the active subject as a topic in historical practice raises a number of questions about the status and function of scholarly history in our societies This article in this volume originally published in 1990 and which originally appeared in History and Anthropology Volume 2 Part 2 discusses what contributions meanings and consequences emerge from scholarly history turning to living memory and what the relationships are between history and memory
