Natural Resource Sovereignty and the Right to Development in Africa Carol Chi Ngang, Serges Djoyou Kamga, 2021-08-25

This book explores the nexus between natural resources ownership and the right to development in Africa. The right to sovereignty over natural resources and the right to development are recognised and protected in an extensive framework of international, regional and domestic instruments. They guarantee people's entitlement to fully and freely utilise their natural resources as a means of subsistence and for economic, social and cultural development. Yet despite the abundance of natural resources in Africa, a majority of the people on the continent remain largely impoverished. This book articulates the central argument that to achieve the right to development in Africa requires appropriate governance of the continent's natural resources to which the people of Africa are guaranteed sovereign ownership. With case study illustrations from Zimbabwe, Ghana, Ethiopia and the Democratic Republic of Congo, chapters explore the normative measures, specific guarantees and community entitlements to natural resources for the realisation of the right to development. The book will be an invaluable guide to scholars and postgraduate students of Natural Resources Development and African studies as well as policymakers and practitioners in these areas. Africa Institute Bulletin, 1965 Bulletin Africa Institute of South Africa, 1965

Moderation of component 2 can help to improve candidates' final grade. This descriptive correlational study purports to determine which of the component 1 multiple choice, component 2 structured questions and component 3 course work of the BGCSE Botswana General Certificate of Secondary Education Agriculture can be used to predict students' forecast grades. Examination scores spanning seven years (2001-2007) were obtained from BEC records. Two senior secondary schools were randomly selected from each of the five educational regions in Botswana and then a systematic random sample of candidates with their respective scores was obtained from each of the selected schools. A multiple regression analysis was conducted using a backward procedure and it revealed that all the components 1 2 and 3 significantly predicted forecast grades Components 2 shared the largest 31.6% variability with forecast scores It was recommended that teachers should use composite scores from different school based assessments to determine forecast grades Contains 4 tables and 2 figures Agricultural Science Leaving Certificate Examination Papers ,2013 Handbook on Farm Practical Work for the Degree of Bachelor of Agricultural Science Massey University.
