Reconnaissance units are the commander's eyes and ears on the battlefield. They are task organized as a highly trained six man team capable of conducting specific missions behind enemy lines. Employed as part of the Marine Air Ground Task Force, reconnaissance teams provide timely information to the supported commander to shape and influence the battlefield. The varying types of missions a Reconnaissance team conduct depends on how deep in the battle space they are operating. Division Reconnaissance units support the close and distant battlespace while Force Reconnaissance units conduct deep reconnaissance in support of a landing force. Common missions include but are not limited to: Plan, coordinate and conduct amphibious ground reconnaissance and surveillance to observe, identify and report enemy activity and collect other information of military significance. Conduct specialized surveying to include underwater reconnaissance and or demolitions, beach permeability and topography, routes, bridges, structures, urban, rural areas, helicopter landing zones, LZ, parachute drop zones, DZ, aircraft forward operating sites and mechanized reconnaissance missions. When properly task organized with other forces, equipment or personnel, assist in specialized engineer, radio and other special reconnaissance missions. Infiltrate mission areas by necessary means to include surface, subsurface and airborne operations. Conduct Initial Terminal Guidance (ITG) for helicopters, landing craft, parachutists, air delivery and re supply. Designate and engage selected targets with organic weapons and force fires to support battlespace shaping. This includes designation and terminal guidance of precision guided munitions. Conduct post strike reconnaissance to determine and report battle damage assessment on a specified target or area. Conduct limited scale raids and ambushes. The Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP) is a combat system developed by the United States Marine Corps to combine existing and new hand to hand and close quarters combat techniques with morale and team building functions and instruction in the Warrior Ethos. The program, which began in 2001, trains Marines and U.S. Navy personnel attached to Marine units in unarmed combat, edged weapons, weapons of opportunity and rifle and bayonet techniques. It also stresses mental and character development including the responsible use of force, leadership and teamwork. The program uses an advancement system of colored belts similar to that of most martial arts. The different levels of belts are Tan belt the lowest color belt and conducted during entry level training signifies the basic understanding of the mental physical and character disciplines. It is the minimum requirement of all Marines with a training time of 27.5 hours and has no prerequisites. Recruits receive these belts after completion of a practical application test on all of the basic techniques of the Tan Belt. Gray belt is the second belt attained after 25 hours of training. It signifies an intermediate understanding of the basic disciplines. The Marine must complete the Leading Marines course from the Marine Corps Institute and most instructors will require a report be completed on the Marine Raiders. Green belt is the third belt requiring 25 hours of training. This belt signifies understanding of the intermediate fundamentals of the different disciplines. This is the first belt level in which one can become an instructor which allows him or her to teach tan, grey and green belt techniques with the power to award the appropriate belt. The prerequisites for this belt include a recommendation from reporting senior. Brown belt is the fourth belt level requiring 33 hours of training. It introduces Marines to the advanced fundamentals of each discipline. In addition, as with green belts they may be certified as MAIs and teach tan through brown techniques. Prerequisites for this belt include recommendation of reporting senior. Black belt 1st degree is the highest belt color and requires 40 hours of supervised training. It signifies knowledge of the advanced fundamentals of the different disciplines. A 1st degree black belt instructor may teach fundamentals from tan to black belt and award the appropriate belt.

McMap Marine Corps Martial Arts Program

Usmc, 2013-12. The Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP) is a combat system developed by the United States Marine Corps to combine existing and new hand to hand and close quarters combat (CQC) techniques with morale and team building functions and instruction in the Warrior Ethos. The program, which began in 2001, trains Marines and U.S. Navy personnel attached to Marine units in unarmed combat, edged weapons, weapons of opportunity and rifle and bayonet techniques. It also stresses mental and character development including the responsible use of force, leadership and teamwork. The techniques used by MCMAP vary in degrees of lethality, allowing the user to select the most appropriate, usually the least amount of force. For example, a Marine facing a nonviolent but noncompliant subject can use an unarmed restraint to force compliance with minimal damage and pain. A more aggressive subject could be met with a choke hold or a strike. Lethal force can be used on a subject as a last resort. The majority of techniques can be defensive or offensive in use with or without a weapon, allowing Marines flexibility in combat and operations other than war, such as civil control or humanitarian missions, as well as self defense.

The total force will conduct the training and evaluation of 30 tasks designated in the BST program in order to sustain skills common for all Marines.
