What Makes a World-Class School and How We Can Get There James H. Stronge, Xianxuan Xu, 2017-06-15 For years students in the United States have lagged behind students in many other countries on such measures of achievement as the PISA and TIMSS assessments In an increasingly globalized world such a gap is worrisome Armed with statistics examples and cautionary tales from Scandinavia to Japan James H Stronge and Xianxuan Xu have written a book that can help educators better prepare students and close that gap In What Makes a World Class School and How We Can Get There you will find Careful analysis of recent international assessment results what they mean and what can be done to improve them In depth profiles of high achieving education systems around the globe their histories their lessons learned and what they can teach educators and policymakers in the United States Strategies for aligning successful educational approaches from international systems to U S schools which strategies to use in which subjects and with which students Transformative ideas for cultivating a truly world class system of schooling both simple and complex ways to raise the bar for all students no matter what their background Educators in every country must ensure that their students are as prepared as possible to lead a future generation of citizens This thought provoking and copiously researched book provides educators with a blueprint for radical improvement based on the hard learned experiences of their peers around the world Behavioral Science & Policy: Volume 2, Issue 1 Craig Fox, Sim B. Sitkin, 2016-11-22 The success of nearly all public and private sector policies hinges on the behavior of individuals groups and organizations Today such behaviors are better understood than ever thanks to a growing body of practical behavioral science research However policymakers often are unaware of behavioral science findings that may help them craft and execute more effective and efficient policies The pages of this new journal will become a meeting ground a place where scientists and non scientists can encounter clearly described behavioral research that can be put into action By design the scope of BSP is broad with topics spanning health care financial decisionmaking energy and the environment education and culture justice and ethics and work place practices Contributions will be made by researchers with expertise in psychology sociology law behavioral economics organization science decision science and marketing The journal is a key offering of the Behavioral Science Policy Association in partnership with the Brookings Institution The mission of BSPA is to foster dialog between social scientists policymakers and other practitioners in order to promote the application of rigorous empirical behavioral science in ways that serve the public interest BSPA does not advance a particular agenda or political perspective The first issue's contents follow Behavioral Science Policy vol 2 no 1 Table of Contents Editors Note Spotlight Pre Kindergarten Interventions American Policy on Early Childhood Education Development Many Programs Great Hopes Modest Prospects Ron Haskins Evidence for the Benefits of State Prekindergarten Programs Myth Misrepresentation Dale C Farran Mark W Lipsey Reforming Head Start for the 21st Century A Policy Prescription Sara Mead Ashley LiBetti Mitchel Home Visiting Programs Four Evidence Based Lessons for Policymakers Cynthia Osborne Launching
