Hill,2006 One of the most celebrated influential and widely studied movements in the history of international cinema the French New Wave has been oversimplified by some scholars as primarily the work of five directors all former critics for Cahiers du cinema Truffaut Godard Chabrol Rivette and Rohmer Often overlooked in English language studies of the movement the films of Jacques Demy help to give us a broader understanding of the New Wave and its avowed rebellion against the Tradition of Quality which had dominated French screens in the 1950s Demy s earliest commercial films Lola La Luxure and Bay of Angels fit squarely into the New Wave aesthetic as outlined by Michel Marie in The French New Wave An Artistic School 2001 and many of his later films including Donkey Skin and A Slightly Pregnant Man continue in that vein beyond the era normally ascribed to the New Wave proper Most importantly Demy s musical films of the 1960s The Umbrellas of Cherbourg and The Young Girls of Rochefort constitute a rapprochement between the New Wave and the Tradition of Quality two impulses in French cinema previously regarded as polar opposites This study relies upon the techniques of neoformalist analysis as well as some concepts of Brechtian distancing to examine Jacques Demy s films vis a vis the two traditions
