

The background of the slide is a detailed historical painting, likely from the 17th century, depicting a church interior. A large, diverse crowd of people is gathered, with many looking towards a central figure. This figure, positioned in the upper center, is dressed in a dark, voluminous robe and a white clerical collar, possibly a minister or a person of high religious authority. The scene is filled with people of various ages and social classes, creating a sense of a significant public event or a religious gathering. The text 'The First Great Awakening' is overlaid in a large, white, serif font, centered over the painting.

Hermann Hesse's Fictions of the Self Eugene L. Stelzig, 2014-07-14 This masterful synthesis of criticism and biography surveys all of Hermann Hesse's major works and many of his minor ones in relation to the intricate psychological design of his entire life history Eugene Stelzig examines what it means to be an autobiographical writer by considering Hesse's fictions of the self as an exemplary instance of the relationship between life and art and between biography and autobiography In a graceful and inviting style he frees this major confessional writer from the confines of German culture and the status of cult figure of the 1960s and situates him in the tradition of world literature and in a variety of literary psychological philosophical and religious contexts Three introductory chapters on autobiography and Hesse set the stage for a chronological study Then follows a penetrating analysis of the balance between biographical fact and confessional fantasy in Hesse's long career from the failed autobiography of his first literary success Beneath the Wheel through the protracted midlife crisis of the grotesque Steppenwolf period to the visionary autobiography of his magisterial fictional finale The Glass Bead Game Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 The Billboard, 1926 The Epworth Herald, 1901 The Publisher, 1909 North-western Christian Advocate, 1902 The Athenaeum, 1888 Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle, 1888 The Solicitors' Journal, 1901 Market World and Chronicle, 1910 A Review of English Literature, 1961 British Books, 1910 The Solicitors' Journal and Reporter, 1901 Years's Transactions of the Carmarthenshire Antiquarian Society and Field Club ... Carmarthenshire Antiquarian Society and Field Club, 1917 Live Stock Journal, 1891 The Publishers Weekly, 1902 Arts & Humanities Citation Index, 1996

James Joyce's 'Work in Progress' Dirk Van Hulle, 2016-04-28 The text of Finnegans Wake is not as monolithic as it might seem It grew out of a set of short vignettes sections and fragments Several of these sections which James Joyce confidently claimed would fuse of themselves are still recognizable in the text of Finnegans Wake And while they are undeniably integrated very skillfully they also function separately In this publication history Dirk Van Hulle examines the interaction between the private composition process and the public life of Joyce's Work in Progress from the creation of the separate sections through their publication in periodicals and as separately published sections Van Hulle highlights the beautifully crafted editions published by fine arts presses and Joyce's encouragement of his daughter's creative talents even as his own creative process was slowing down in the 1930s All of these pre book publications were alive in both bibliographic and textual terms as Joyce continually changed the texts in order to prepare the book publication of Finnegans Wake Van

Hulle s book offers a fresh perspective on these texts showing that they are not just preparatory versions of Finnegans Wake but a Work in Progress in their own right      The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1928      D, Society.
