Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re-evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike

Language in Epistemic Access Caroline Kerfoot, Anne-Marie Simon-Vandenberg, 2018-07-26 This book focuses on how to address persistent linguistically structured inequalities in education primarily in relation to South African schools but also in conversation with Australian work and with resonances for other multilingual contexts around the world The book as a whole lays bare the tension between the commitment to multilingualism enshrined in the South African Constitution and language in education policy and the realities of the dominance of English and the virtual absence of indigenous African languages in current educational practices It suggests that dynamic plurilingual pedagogies can be allied with the explicit scaffolding of genre based pedagogies to help redress asymmetries in epistemic access and to re-imagine policies pedagogies and practices more in tune with the realities of multilingual classrooms The contributions to this book offer complementary insights on routes to improving access to school knowledge especially for learners whose home language or language variety is different to that of teaching and learning at school All subscribe to similar ideologies which include the view that multilingualism should be seen as a resource rather than a problem in education Commentaries on these chapters highlight evidence based high impact educational responses and suggest that translanguaging and genre may well offer opportunities for students to expand their linguistic repertoires and to bridge epistemological differences between community and school This book was originally published as a special issue of Language and Education Teaching Mathematics Creatively Linda Pound, Trisha Lee, 2021-09-30 This revised and updated third edition offers a range of strategies activities and ideas to bring mathematics to life in the primary classroom Taking an innovative and playful approach to maths teaching this book promotes creativity as a key element of practice and offers ideas to help your students develop knowledge understanding and enjoyment of the subject In the creative classroom mathematics becomes a tool to build confidence develop problem solving skills and motivate children The fresh approaches explored in this book include a range of activities such as storytelling music and construction elevating maths learning beyond subject knowledge itself to enable students to see mathematics in a new way Key chapters of this book explore Learning maths outdoors make more noise make more mess or work on a larger scale Everyday maths making sense of the numbers patterns shapes and measures children see around them Music and maths the role of rhythm in learning and music and pattern in maths Stimulating accessible and underpinned by the latest research and theory this is essential reading for trainee and practising teachers who wish to embed creative approaches to maths teaching in their classroom The Times Index ,2013-06 Indexes the Times Sunday times and magazine Times literary supplement Times educational supplement Time educational supplement Scotland and the Times higher education supplement premise of the conference held at Mt Holyoke College during 21-22 June 2013 and this circle of ideas is brought forward in this volume. The conference brought together diverse points of view from NSF administrators, leaders of university-wide honors programs, to faculty who had led REUs, recent PhDs who are expected to lead them soon, and students currently in an REU themselves. The conversation was so varied that it justifies a book-length attempt to capture all that was suggested, reported, and said. Among the contributors are Ravi Vakil (Stanford), Haynes Miller (MIT), and Carlos Castillo-Chavez (Arizona State University's Obama Committee on the National Medal of Science, 2010-2012). This book should serve not only as a collection of speakers' notes but also as a source book for anyone interested in teaching mathematics and in the possibility of incorporating research-like experiences in mathematics classes at any level, as well as designing research experiences for undergraduates outside of the classroom.
