Field and Service Robotics Alexander Zelinsky, 2012-12-06 Joe Engelberger the pioneer of the robotics industry wrote in his 1989 book Robotics in Service that the inspiration to write his book came as a reaction to an industry sponsored forecast study of robot applications which predicted that in 1995 applications of robotics outside factories the traditional domain of industrial robots would amount to less than 1% of total sales Engelberger believed that this forecast was very wrong and instead predicted that the non industrial class of robot applications would become the largest class Engelbergers prediction has yet to come to pass However he did correctly foresee the growth in non traditional applications of robots Robots are now beginning to march from the factories and into field and service applications This book presents a selection of papers from the first major international conference dedicated to field and service applications of robotics This selection includes papers from the leading research laboratories in the world together with papers from companies that are building and selling new and innovative robotic technology It describes interesting aspects of robots in the field ranging from mining agriculture construction cargo handling subsea operations removal of landmines to terrestrial exploration It also covers a diverse range of service applications such as cleaning propagating plants and aiding the elderly and handicapped and gives considerable attention to the technology required to realise robust reliable and safe robots Mining, Mobility, and Social Change in the Global South Gerardo Castillo Guzmán, Matthew Himley, David Brereton, 2023-12-22 This volume focuses on how why under what conditions and with what effects people move across space in relation to mining asking how a focus on spatial mobility can aid scholars and policymakers in understanding the complex relation between mining and social change This collection centers the concept of mobility to address the diversity of mining related population movements as well as the agency of people engaged in these movements This volume opens by introducing both the historical context and conceptual tools for analyzing the mining mobility nexus followed by case study chapters focusing on three regions with significant histories of mineral extraction and where mining currently plays an important role in socio economic life the Andes Central and West Africa and Melanesia Written by authors with expertise in diverse fields including anthropology development studies geography and history case study chapters address areas of both large and smallscale mining They explore the historical geographical factors shaping mining related mobilities the meanings people attach to these movements and the relations between people s mobility practices and the flows of other things put in motion by mining including capital ideas technologies and toxic contamination The result is an important volume that provides fresh insights into the social geographies and spatial politics of extraction This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of mining and the extractive industries spatial politics and geography mobility and migration development and the social and environmental dimensions of natural resources more generally Chapter 6 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4
