La Part Du Mort:

Mediterranean Crime Fiction Barbara Pezzotti, 2023-11-23 By exploring the transcultural nature of Mediterranean crime fiction Barbara Pezzotti advocates for a regional reading of the genre

The Extreme In-between (politics and Literature) Anna-Louise Milne, 2017-12-02 Frequently referred to as the eminence grise of French literature in the interwar years Jean Paulhan 1884 1968 was not just the editor responsible for giving writers as varied as Francis Ponge and Jean Paul Sartre their first start in the pages of the renowned Nouvelle Revue Française He also produced a substantial body of work of astonishing eclecticism From dense quasi scientific texts on poetic language where his critical expertise in contemporary linguistics and psychology is abundantly apparent to enigmatic recits which often seem closer to prose poems than anything else he explored and exploited a vast range of discourses and artistic practices from the Marquis de Sade's early works to Picasso's still lives Yet all his explorations were governed by a primary and unflinching concern to understand what literature owes society In a series of tightly orchestrated readings Anna Louise Milne brings to light the space he sought to carve out between the art for art's sake ethos and the subordination of art to political ends thereby establishing more clearly Jean Paulhan's place in the twentieth century

Violent Beginnings Lucie Knight-Santos, 2014-10-24 From a colonial campaign that was envisioned by France as the redemption of its Algerian children through Western civilization to Algerian Independence that was lived by both parties as a bloody divorce recent Algerian history has been imagined and represented in terms of the family Prominent authors such as Kateb Yacine and Mouloud Mammeri pondered their own fate during the War of Independence as the mixed children of a failed colonial marriage Contemporary postcolonial authors such as Rachid Boudjedra Yasmina Salah and Arezki Mellal have filled their narratives with orphaned children searching for ideal parents as a civil war ripped Algeria apart in the 1990s Violent Beginnings Literary Representations of Postcolonial Algeria explores how violence during the War of Independence 1954 1962 to the more recent civil war 1991 2002 has shaped literary representations of both family and nation in contemporary literature For example discussions of the struggle for independence in Assia Djebar's La femme sans voile and Ahlam Mostaghanemi's Memory of the Flesh represent sexual torture associated with this earlier war period as having a negative impact on victims' ability to have children and contribute to the development of the Algerian nation Texts examining the more recent civil war such as Rachid Boudjedra's La vie l'endroit and Yasmina Salah's Glass Nation establish a link between the earlier violence of the independence struggle and contemporary events Additionally these texts proceed to demonstrate how violence has shaped familial and national structures more specifically causing distorted familial bonds and political chaos in contemporary Algerian society

Investigating Identities Marieke

Krajenbrink, Kate M. Quinn, 2009 Investigating Identities Questions of Identity in Contemporary International Crime Fiction is one of the relatively few books to date which adopts a comparative approach to the study of the genre This collection of twenty essays by international scholars examining crime fiction production from over a dozen countries confirms that a comparative approach can both shed light on processes of adaptation and appropriation of the genre within specific national regional or local contexts and also uncover similarities between the works of authors from very different areas Contributors explore discourse concerning national and historical memory language race ethnicity culture and gender and examine how identity is affirmed and challenged in the crime genre today They reveal a growing tendency towards hybridization and postmodern experimentation and increasing engagement with philosophical enquiry into the epistemological dimensions of investigation Throughout the notion of stable identities is subject to scrutiny While each essay in itself is a valuable addition to existing criticism on the genre all the chapters mutually inform and complement each other in fascinating and often unexpected ways This volume makes an important contribution to the growing field of crime fiction studies and to ongoing debates on questions of identity It will therefore be of special interest to students and scholars of the crime genre identity studies and comparative literature It will also appeal to all who enjoy reading contemporary crime fiction Cours
