Jeeves And The Wedding Bells:

Jeeves and the Wedding Bells Sebastian Faulks, 2013-11-05 Faulksie nails it again in this pastiche novel featuring Jeeves and Bertie evoking rather than imitating Wodehouse but doing so in perfect pitch Booklist starred review P G Wodehouse documented the lives of the inimitable Jeeves and Wooster for nearly sixty years from their first appearance in the 1915 short story Extricating Young Guss to Wodehouse's final novel Aunts Aren't Gentlemen in 1974 These fictional single men were two of the greatest creations of a novelist widely proclaimed to be the finest comic English writer by critics and fans alike With the approval of the Wodehouse estate acclaimed novelist Sebastian Faulks brings these two back to life for their legion of fans Bertie nursing a bit of heartbreak over the recent engagement of one Georgina Meadows agrees to help his old friend Peregrine Woody Beeching whose own romance is foundering which means an outing to the English countryside Almost immediately things go awry and the simple plan quickly becomes complicated In a role reversal Jeeves ends up impersonating one Lord Etringham while Bertie pretends to be Jeeves manservant and this all happens under the same roof as the now affianced Ms Meadows From there the plot becomes even more hilarious in a brilliantly conceived seamlessly written comic work worthy of the master himself This Faulks certainly knows his stuff when it comes to homaging let me tell you Dashed if most of the time I didn't think I was reading the echt thing Christopher Buckley New York Times Book Review Entirely delightful if like me you are a Wodehouse addict you will undoubtedly want to buy three copies for your friends Christmas stocking A N Wilson Financial Times

Jeeves and the Wedding Bells Sebastian Faulks, 2013-11-04 A gloriously witty novel from Sebastian Faulks using P G Wodehouse's much loved characters Jeeves and Wooster fully authorised by the Wodehouse estate Bertie Wooster recently returned from a very pleasurable sojourn in Cannes finds himself at the stately home of Sir Henry Hackwood in Dorset Bertie is more than familiar with the country house set up he is a veteran of the cocktail hour and thanks to Jeeves his gentleman's personal gentleman is never less than immaculately dressed On this occasion however it is Jeeves who is to be seen in the drawing room while Bertie finds himself below stairs and he doesn't care for it at all Love as so often is at the root of the confusion Bertie you see has met Georgiana on the Continent Azur And though she is clever and he has a reputation for foolish engagements it looks as though this could be the real thing However Georgiana is the ward of Sir Henry Hackwood and in order to maintain his beloved Melbury Hall the impoverished Sir Henry has struck a deal that would see Georgiana becoming Mrs Rupert Venables Meanwhile Peregrine Woody Beeching one of Bertie's oldest chums is desperate to regain the trust of his fiancée Amelia Sir Henry's tennis mad daughter But why would this necessitate Bertie having to pass himself off as a servant when he has never so much as made a cup of tea Could it be that the ever loyal Spinoza loving Jeeves has an ulterior motive Evoking the sunlit days of a time gone by Jeeves and the Wedding Bells is a delightfully witty story of mistaken identity a midsummer village festival a cricket match and love triumphant
