“There is no time for playing around.
You have been retained as counsel for the unhappy;
You have promised to bring help to the shipwrecked, the imprisoned, the sick, the needy, to those whose heads are under the poised axe. Where are you deflecting your attention? What are you doing?”

Lucius Annaeus Seneca (4 BC – AD 65)

1. INTRODUCTION

- Mutual introduction of students and the lecturer: Professor Pavliha studied law in Ljubljana (Slovenia), Split (Croatia) and Montreal (Canada) where he obtained his doctorate at McGill under the supervision of Professor William Tetley. He practiced law for over ten years in a law firm, shipping and reinsurance business. He has been Full Professor of Commercial, Transport and Insurance Law at the University of Ljubljana since 2004 and he also taught law in Belgium, Luxemburg and Australia. Prof. Pavliha has been a Visiting Fellow at the IMO IMLI (Malta) since 1998/99 where he is also an external examiner, as well as a member of the Board of Governors and member of the Academic Board. In 2003 he was elected as Secretary General of the Comité Maritime International, until he has been invited to the Slovenian Government as Minister of Transport (2004). Later he has been elected as Deputy Speaker of the Parliament of the Republic of Slovenia (2004-2007). He was chosen ten times by the Ius Software Poll as one of the Ten Most Influential Slovenian Lawyers and won the 2001 Lawyer of the Year Award granted by the Slovenian Federation of Lawyers' Associations. In 2002, he was the Slovenian candidate for a judge at ITLOS. He participated in drafting most of the Slovenian transport and insurance legislation after its independence. Prof. Pavliha was also a longstanding President of the Maritime Law Association of Slovenia. He is author and co-author of 23 books and over 500 articles and scientific papers. He lives with his wife and two children in a small village Nova vas nearby the Slovenian Adriatic coast.

Marine Insurance Francis Rose, 2013-07-31. Marine Insurance Law and Practice. Second Edition continues to provide the most comprehensive and integrated account of the English law and practice of marine insurance. It provides readers with a fresh and up to date review of the modern law in the light of traditional principles and rules of underlying commercial law and the specific statutory rules of marine insurance as interpreted by case law as moderated in practice by market practices and standard form marine insurance clauses. Francis Rose clarifies the law's underlying framework of principles and illustrates how it works in common contractual situations, explaining how the different components of the law interact. The new edition has been updated to incorporate the most recent case law there have been some very important judgments handed down since the book first published, including The Cendor MOP, The Silva, The Resolute and The Marina Iris, the implications of the introduction of Institute Cargo Clauses 2009, the effect of the Gambling Act 2005 and the Third Parties Rights Against Insurers Act 2010. Law Commission reform proposals. The book explores in detail the following areas: the nature of insurance; insurable interest; the insurance contract; the premium; insured risks; marine risks; exclusions; losses; claims; subrogation; double insurance.

the statutory materials and standard terms are then discussed with particular emphasis on important and problematical areas of the law This book will be indispensable not only to postgraduate students of law in house lawyers insurance brokers and claims adjusters but also to students of maritime studies legal practitioners and a wide range of professionals within the shipping industry who may wish to have at hand a convenient source of information Whilst the book is a companion to the authors The Law of Marine Insurance it is also structured to stand as a marine insurance text in its own right

The Law and Practice of Marine Insurance in Canada George R. Strathy, George Cameron Moore, 2003 Key Divergences Between English and American Law of Marine Insurance Thomas J. Schoenbaum, 1999

From the time of Elizabeth I in the second half of the sixteenth century London has dominated the marine insurance markets This led the English to develop a law of marine insurance as well A Chamber of Assurances was established in England in 1575 and the law of marine insurance rooted in custom developed through the cases decided by the courts In the United States marine insurance underwriting began in the eighteenth century although British firms continued to dominate The American law of marine insurance took its cue from English law there was no American statute and English legal precedents were cited routinely in American courts For fifty years after the English law was codified in the Marine Insurance Act 1906 MIA it could truly be said that there was a unified Anglo American law of marine insurance and that English law was part of the general maritime law of the United States The unity of the Anglo American law which was so beneficial to the international marine insurance industry was broken abruptly in 1955 by the decision of the United States Supreme Court in Wilburn Boat v Fireman s Fund Insurance Co a case that created controversies over the uniformity of the law that have yet to subside The purpose of this work is to explore the extent of the breakdown of the uniformity of the law and to point to its cure
