Features of a Newspaper Report

The main purpose of a newspaper report is to give the reader information about an event that has happened.

Below are some of the main features you should use when writing your own newspaper report.

Headline

This is the title of the newspaper report. It should be short but snappy, clear and specific, telling the reader what the story is about, and be interesting enough to encourage them to carry on reading the report.

Third Person & Past Tense

In a newspaper report, you are writing about other people, not yourself. You need to write in the third person and use pronouns such as 'he', 'she', or 'they'.

The event that you are writing about has already happened, so you need to make sure you write consistently in the past tense.

Introduction

In the opening paragraph, you need to give as much information about the 'where, when, who, why and how' of the story as you can. This helps the reader understand what the report will be about, and sets the scene for them.

Main paragraphs

In the main paragraphs of the report, you should give the full details of the event you are writing about. This will include facts, as well as opinions - you might want to include some quotations from people who witnessed the event.

Images & Captions

Photographs, pictures or diagrams are often used alongside a report, to help the reader further understand the contents. A caption is written underneath - this is a short sentence that explains what the image is showing.

Conclusion

The final paragraph should sum up all of the events in the main paragraphs. At the very end of the report, you need to include a 'by line' - this is the reporter's name - so, yours!

characteristic and exclusively found in newspaper language are being presented in the following chapters Here I will try to demonstrate in how far the role of linguistic structure is extremely important in the construction of language in the news The explained analytic devices will be better illustrated by examples taken from select British newspapers all dealing with the Harold Shipman case one of the most spectacular event in British media Harold Shipman a British general practitioner was the most prolific known serial killer in the history of Britain who killed around 250 patients from the 1970s to 1998 mainly elderly women who lived alone and were otherwise in good health He was eventually caught after he ineptly forged a new will in the name of one of his victims Shipman was convicted on 15 sample charges in 2000 and sentenced to life imprisonment Dr Death the media gave him this nickname committed suicide in 2004 without admitting to or explaining his crimes The style of the Sun newspaper is very different from that of the Guardian and the readerships of the two papers are very distinct in socioeconomical terms Therefore the reports by four different British newspapers concerning this topic are being examined and compared namely the Guardian the Daily Telegraph the Daily Mirror and The Sun After all this paper wants to prove that news is a representation of a construction of social and economic values and not a value free reflection of facts It is written to look at the way the news texts present and to a certain extent create or at least influence aspects of our in this case the British culture and society
