

8. How does an inline UPS protect computer equipment against electrical power brownouts and blackouts?

- by grounding excess electrical voltage
- by using a battery to supply a constant level of voltage
- by switching from main power to a standby power source
- by stopping the flow of voltage to the computer

Explanation:Uninterruptible power supplies (UPS) contain a battery which is constantly providing a consistent level of voltage to the computer.

9. Which condition refers to a reduced voltage level of AC power that lasts for an extended period of time?

- brownout
- sag
- spike
- surge

Explanation:Surges and spikes are increased voltage levels. A sag is a short duration reduction in line voltage while a brownout is a reduction in voltage that occurs for an extended period of time.

10. How should a technician dispose of an empty inkjet printer cartridge?

- Refill it.
- Throw it away.
- Follow local regulations for disposal.
- Give it back to the customer.

Explanation:Refilling used inkjet cartridges is not recommended, as it may void the printer warranty and could leak ink, damaging the printer. Printer cartridges should be recycled, following the procedures established for recycling by the manufacturer. Because they are an environmental hazard, they should never be thrown away.

11. What makes CRT monitor disposal dangerous for a technician who is handling the disposal?

- potential breathing hazards
- potential explosive materials
- potential residual high voltage
- potential health-damaging chemicals

Explanation:CRT monitors do contain lead, barium, and rare earth metals that can be dangerous to the environment if not disposed of properly, but the danger to the technician is in the high voltage levels that can be stored even after powering off the monitor and disconnecting the power cord. A technician might be disposing of a CRT monitor that has the cover ajar or removed and be exposed to the high voltage.

12. Which type of interface was originally developed for high-definition televisions and is also popular to use with computers to connect audio and video devices?

- FireWire
- DVI
- HDMI
- USB
- VGA

Self-management for College Students Edward J. O'Keefe, Donna S. Berger, 1993 Gerald Erchak's engaging book stakes out a position in the field of psychological anthropology He addresses himself primarily to students in the field and also to specialists who want a clearly presented approach He argues that culture shapes the human self and behavior and that the self and behavior are in turn adapted to culture After defining basic concepts and debates in the field Erchak takes up the topics of socialization gender sexuality collective behavior national character deviance behavioral disorder cognition and emotion This new textbook contains more material about sexuality and gender than any other such text For Erchak psychocultural adaptation is basic to human life Culture plays a central role in our behavior and survival Each chapter reviews the literature not as a scholar would but rather to provide an overview of central issues in the field Each chapter also provides case material some of which is drawn from Erchak's own work on West African socialization Micronesian social change family violence initiation rites and alcoholism His examples are drawn from the U S as well as non Western cultures This book will be of particular interest to teachers looking for new texts for undergraduate courses in anthropology
