period David Tunley paints a vivid portrait of the nineteenth century Parisien salons and the performers who sang in them. Against this colourful backdrop he discusses the development of French romantic song with its hallmarks of simplicity and clarity of diction. Combined with Italian influences and the impression made by Schubert's songs the French romance developed into a form with greater complexity. The Salons Singers and Songs describes this transformation and the seeds it sowed for music by later composers such as Fauré, Duparc and Debussy.
