The Translation of Films, 1900-1950 Carol O'Sullivan, Jean-François Cornu, 2019-02-28 Ground breaking in its study of translation of subtitling and dubbing of silent films The Translation of Films 1900 1950 shows how silent films went through a complicated editing process for international distribution It is also a major step forward in research on translation during the transition to sound in the late 1920s and early 1930s A History of Russian Literature Andrew Kahn, Mark Lipovetsky, Irina Reyfman, Stephanie Sandler, 2018-04-13 Russia possesses one of the richest and most admired literatures of Europe reaching back to the eleventh century A History of Russian Literature provides a comprehensive account of Russian writing from its earliest origins in the monastic works of Kiev up to the present day still rife with the creative experiments of post Soviet literary life The volume proceeds chronologically in five parts extending from Kievan Rus in the 11th century to the present day The coverage strikes a balance between extensive overview and in depth thematic focus Parts are organized thematically in chapters which a number of keywords that are important literary concepts that can serve as connecting motifs and case studies in depth discussions of writers institutions and texts that take the reader up close and personal Visual material also underscores the interrelation of the word and image at a number of points particularly significant in the medieval period and twentieth century The History addresses major continuities and discontinuities in the history of Russian literature across all periods and in particular brings out trans historical features that contribute to the notion of a national literature The volume s time range has the merit of identifying from the early modern period a vital set of national stereotypes and popular folklore about boundaries space Holy Russia and the charismatic king that offers culturally relevant material to later writers This volume delivers a fresh view on a series of key questions about Russia s literary history by providing new mappings of literary history and a narrative that pursues key concepts rather more than individual authorial careers This holistic narrative underscores the ways in which context and text are densely woven in Russian literature and demonstrates that the most exciting way to understand the canon and the development of tradition is through a discussion of the interrelation of major and minor figures historical events and literary politics literary theory and literary innovation Free Russia, 1890

Textual Translation and Live Translation Fernando Poyatos, 2008 After the many interdisciplinary perspectives on nonverbal communication offered by the author in his previous seven John Benjamins books which have generated a wide range of scholarly applications the present monograph is dominated by a very broad concept of translation This treatment of translation includes theater and cinema enriching our intellectual sensorial experience of both reading act and viewing act and offers among other topics sensorial intellectual emotional pre and post reading interactions with books mute or audible oralization of texts the translator s linguistic and nonverbal cultural fluency and implicit textual paralinguistic and kinesics translating functions of pictorial illustrations the blind s text and film perception the foreign reader s cultural background and circumstances theater and cinema spectators total sensory intellectual experience of plays and films beyond staging or projection the multiple interrelationships between cinema and theater performers spectators and their environments of special interest to all those involved in the theater and the translator's challenging textual perception of sounds and movements Over 800 literary quotations and two virtually exhaustive English inventories of sound and movement denoting words with many examples offer serious students of translation language or literature a rich reference and drill source
