Meaning And Textuality:

Meaning and Textuality François Rastier, Frank Collins, Paul Perron, 1997 Rastier proposes a theoretical framework for the semantic description and typology of texts establishing a critical debate among various streams of research before arriving at a synthesis of literary semiotics, thematics and linguistic semantics

The Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics Stephen Cushman, Clare Cavanagh, Jahan Ramazani, Paul Rouzer, 2012-08-26 The most important poetry reference for more than four decades now fully updated for the twenty first century Through three editions over more than four decades The Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics has built an unrivaled reputation as the most comprehensive and authoritative reference for students, scholars and poets on all aspects of its subject: history, movements, genres, prosody, rhetorical devices, critical terms and more. Now this landmark work has been thoroughly revised and updated for the twenty first century. Compiled by an entirely new team of editors, the fourth edition, the first new edition in almost twenty years, reflects recent changes in literary and cultural studies, providing up to date coverage and giving greater attention to the international aspects of poetry, all while preserving the best of the previous volumes. At well over a million words and more than 1 000 entries, the Encyclopedia has unparalleled breadth and depth. Entries range in length from brief paragraphs to major essays of 15 000 words, offering a more thorough treatment, including expert synthesis and indispensable bibliographies, than conventional handbooks or dictionaries. This is a book that no reader or writer of poetry will want to be without. Thoroughly revised and updated by a new editorial team for twenty first century students, scholars and poets, more than 250 new entries cover recent terms, movements and related topics. Broader international coverage includes articles on the poetries of more than 110 nations, regions and languages. Expanded coverage of poetries of the non Western and developing worlds. Updated bibliographies and cross references. New, easier to use page design. Fully indexed for the first time.

The Idea of a Text and the Nature of Textual Meaning Anders Pettersson, 2017-04-15 In his account of text and textual meaning, Pettersson demonstrates that a text, as commonly conceived, is not only a verbal structure but also a physical entity, two kinds of phenomena which do not in fact add up to a unitary object. He describes this current notion of text as convenient enough for many practical purposes but inadequate in discussions of a theoretically more demanding nature. Having clearly demonstrated its intellectual drawbacks, he develops an alternative, boldly revisionary way of thinking about text and textual meaning. His careful argument is in challenging dialogue with assumptions about language in use to be found in a wide range of present day literary theory, linguistics, philosophical aesthetics and philosophy of language.

A Theory of Textuality Jorge J. E. Gracia, 1995-07-01 This is the first comprehensive and systematic theory of textuality that takes into account the relevant views of both analytic and Continental thinkers and also of major historical figures. The author shows that most of the confusion surrounding textuality is the result of three factors: a too narrow understanding of the category, a lack of a proper distinction among logical, epistemological and metaphysical issues, and a lack of proper grounding of epistemological and metaphysical questions on logic analyses The author begins with a logical analysis of the notion of text resulting in a definition that serves as the basis for the distinctions he subsequently draws between texts on the one hand and language artifacts and art objects on the other and for the classification of texts according to their modality and function The second part of the book uses the conclusions of the first part to solve the various epistemological issues which have been raised about texts by philosophers of language semioticians hermeneuticists literary critics semanticists aestheticians and historiographers

New Horizons in Hermeneutics Anthony C. Thiselton, 1992 This book explores the rapidly growing interdisciplinary area of hermeneutics and its significance for biblical studies combining wide fundamental rigorous and creative theoretical concerns with practical questions about how we read biblical texts

Textuality and Tectonics Beryl C. Curt, 1994 Textuality and Tectonics seeks neither to gloat upon this threatened bankruptcy nor to peddle false hopes of a quick fix restructuring under new management Instead it concentrates upon and argues out the new prospects alternative projects and liberated commitments opened up by the climate of problematization itself

Speculative Grammatology Deborah Goldgaber, 2020-10-08 Looking mainly at Derrida's early work the three texts published in 1967 Of Grammatology Speech and Phenomenon and Writing and Difference Deborah Goldgaber opens the conversation between deconstruction and speculative realism She shows that grammatology implies an original form of philosophical materialism and identifies the salience of deconstructive materialism to contemporary philosophical debates She demonstrates that Derrida's claims about writing's absolute generality that writing pertains to more than just language extend to living and material processes However though grammatology generalises writing it radically displaces scriptural models with a novel schema that of the mnemonic trace Goldgaber highlights the productive resources that Derridean writing has to offer contemporary materialist projects including those of Karen Barad Catherine Malabou and Quentin Meillassoux These fresh insights will inspire new dialogues among everyone interested in Derrida as well as in Speculative Realism and New Materialism

Translation as Text Albrecht

Neubert, Gregory M. Shreve, 1992 As translation plays an increasingly important role in industry science technology commerce politics and the international economy the search for better more informed methods of translation proceeds on a global scale New sometimes competing models for describing translation are being developed and applied These new models are interdisciplinary borrowing concepts from linguistics literary criticism cognitive science psychology and sociology
