Education in a Federal UK John Furlong, Ingrid Lunt, 2019-10-23 Britain's two recent referenda on Brexit 2016 and on Scottish independence 2014 have raised in the public mind fundamental questions about the future of the UK It seems that for the first time the public the media and the political elite have woken up to the fact that in different parts of the UK there are different histories different aspirations and different imagined futures in relation to a whole range of vitally important political issues But what the public debate often fails to recognise is that in many areas of public life perhaps especially education the UK is already a federal state and in key respects has been so for many years The aim of this volume is therefore to take stock to try and capture what the current state of educational policy and practice is across the whole of the UK This has been achieved by commissioning two different papers from each of the four countries Wales Scotland Northern Ireland and England The first is an overview exploring the distinctive history principles and current policies of each country The second paper has been specifically chosen as a case study of a key policy that highlights the distinctiveness of each country the Foundation Phase for Wales assessment policy in Scotland shared education initiatives in Northern Ireland and higher education policy in England Taken together these eight papers give an important insight into the complexities of educational policy and practice across the whole of the UK today This volume was originally published as a special issue of Oxford Review of Education

Education Policy, Practice and the Professional Jane Bates, Sue Lewis, Andy Pickard, 2019-03-21 In this introduction to educational policy practice and professionalism the authors focus first on providing an historical overview of English policy from the state's first interventions in education through to Thatcherism and the election of the Blair government Chapters then explore the key contemporary policies of recent times and offer a critique on how they have worked in practice with reference to the hysteria that often surrounds education policy An important theme is media representation of educational matters and the effects this has on the teaching profession Commentaries and case studies are presented throughout providing an accessible link to what it was really like to learn teach and live at the time the policy was in place This new edition now includes an account of the measures taken by the Coalition Government of 2010-15 examining the Coalition's continuities with the previous administration whilst also exploring departures from previous thinking and practices updated references and case studies throughout to represent new research and legislation since the first edition an extended discussion of globalization and global policy borrowing further coverage of social justice theory including a perspective on identity theory and the role of education in the development of identity and the marginalisation of individuals and groups a new historical chapter covering the period 1945 to 1997 a
