Limpopo Trial 2014 Economics Paper 2:

Youth Employment Programmes in Africa Ramos E. Mabugu, Lucas Ronconi, 2025-10-03 This book investigates youth employment programmes across nine African countries providing important insights into the world's youngest continent by population in which 60% of people are aged under 25. By 2050 the labour force in sub-Saharan Africa is expected to be almost double the size of the labour force in high income countries representing a massive shift in the world's working population and providing a significant challenge for job creation. In this book contributors bring together insights from more than 500 in depth interviews and 1 500 focus group participants to consider whether youth employment programmes are effectively reaching vulnerable groups. This book tackles the problem of political clientelism in the allocation of benefits and considers the level of coordination that is taking place across programmes and political institutions. Combining rich empirical findings with data about labour market outcomes and institutions this book will be an important read for researchers wishing to understand the political economy of youth employment policy in Africa.

An Adaptive Safety Incentives Framework for Construction Organisations in Developing Economies Kunle Ogundipe, Babatunde Fatai Ogunbayo, Clinton Ohis Aigbavboa, 2025-11-24 The central aim of this book is to focus on safety incentives in a construction context and conceptualise an adaptive safety incentive framework for construction firms in the global south. This book is a collection of knowledge on safety incentives and their impact on improving workplace safety motivating workers safety practices and improving organisations performance goals in the construction industry. With primary research conducted in Nigeria and secondary comparisons with Ghana South Africa China Malaysia and Hong Kong the conceptualised framework provides insights into the multifaceted factors influencing safety incentives in the construction sector. By explaining the behavioural approach to creating reward systems that minimise unintended consequences and maximise happiness health wealth and success this book takes a pragmatic approach to developing safety incentives and provides significant practical insights. This book identifies the gaps in safety incentives studies by critically reviewing related models theories and conceptual models to provide significant recommendations that support the implementation of safety incentives in the construction industry in the global south. Guiding readers on templates for developing safety incentives this book will interest professionals in building construction project management quantity surveying civil engineering human resource management studies and occupational safety and health OSH and owners of construction organisations as well as researchers in all these fields.
