Extreme Beauty James Swearingen, Joanne Cutting-Gray, 2003-01-01 What do we mean when we speak of beauty What do we experience Beauty is no longer the human experience of the harmonious object today an aesthetics of difference has revolutionised our ways of seeing the beautiful Now we live in a time of extreme beauty Extreme Beauty explores art literature politics and philosophy in order to illuminate how the concept and experience of beauty has changed The essays range from Hegel and Modernism to Marcel Duchamp and the Avant Garde postmodern poetics boredom and Proust the romance of Arendt and Heidegger fascism and the consumption of the flesh postcolonialism and imagination to Derrida and the glory and gift of death The Walker Matthew Beaumont, 2020-11-10 From Charles Dickens London to today's megacities a fascinating exploration of what urban walking tells us about modern life for fans of Rebecca Solnit Olivia Laing's The Lonely City and literary history A labyrinthine journey into the literature of walking and thinking as seen in the lives and works of Edgar Allan Poe Virginia Woolf Ray Bradbury and other literary greats Guardian There is no such thing as a false step Every time we walk we are going somewhere Especially if we are going nowhere Moving around the modern city is not a way of getting from A to B but of understanding who and where we are In a series of riveting intellectual rambles Matthew Beaumont retraces episodes in the history of the walker since the mid 19th century From Dickens's insomniac night rambles to restless excursions through the faceless monuments of today's neoliberal city the act of walking is one of self discovery and self escape of disappearances and secret subversions Pacing stride for stride alongside literary ambler and thinkers such as Edgar Allan Poe Andr Breton H G Wells Virginia Woolf Jean Rhys and Ray Bradbury Beaumont explores the relationship between the metropolis and its pedestrian life Through these writings Beaumont asks Can you get lost in a crowd What are the consequences of using your smartphone in the street What differentiates the nocturnal metropolis from the city of daylight What connects walking philosophy and the big toe And can we save the city or ourselves by taking to the pavement Comparative Criticism: Volume 4, The Language of the Arts E. S. Shaffer, 1982-11-11 Addresses literary theory and criticism comparative studies in terms of theme genre movement and influence and interdisciplinary perspectives

André Breton J. H. Matthews, 1986-01-01 Breton's stature is much greater than that of a number of contemporaries who have received already far more attention from the critics than he It provides justification without excuse especially when the commentator's purpose is to shed light on the intricacies of Breton's mind the significance of his original work or the impact of his ideas on twentieth century culture Hence the aim pursued in the present study may be stated without further preamble To attempt to broaden understanding of the evolution of Andr Breton's thinking during a critical period in his life the one which brought him to leadership of the surrealist movement in France Evidently the focus here is narrow the goal being to give clearer definition to the intellectual state of a young man emerging from doubt and so from self doubt into renewed confidence in his poetic calling Transition, 1929 The Screen in Surrealist Art and Thought Haim

Finkelstein, 2017-07-05 An interrogation of the notion of space in Surrealist theory and philosophy this study analyzes the manifestations of space in the paintings and writings done in the framework of the Surrealist Movement Haim Finkelstein introduces the screen as an important spatial paradigm that clarifies and extends the understanding of Surrealism as it unfolds in the 1920s exploring the screen and layered depth as fundamental structuring principles associated with the representation of the mental space and of the internal processes that eventually came to be linked with the Surrealist concept of psychic automatism Extending the discussion of the concepts at stake for Surrealist visual art into the context of film literature and criticism this study sheds new light on the way film thinking permeates Surrealist thought and aesthetics In early chapters Finkelstein looks at the concept of the screen as emblematic of a strand of spatial apprehension that informs the work of young writers in the 1920s such as Robert Desnos and Louis Aragon He goes on to explore the way the spatial character of the serial films of Louis Feuillade intimated to the Surrealists a related mode of vision associated with perception of the mystery and the Marvelous lurking behind the surfaces of quotidian reality The dialectics informing Surrealist thought with regard to the surfaces of the real with walls doors and windows as controlling images are shown to be at the basis of Andr   Breton's notion of the picture as a window Contrary to the traditional sense of this metaphor Breton's window is informed by the screen paradigm with its surface serving as a locus of a dialectics of transparency and opacity permeability and reflectivity The main aesthetic and conceptual issues that come up in the consideration of Breton's window metaphor lay the groundwork for an analysis of the work of Giorgio de Chirico Ren   Magritte Max Ernst Andr   Breton and Joan Mir   The concluding chapter considers

Crisis and the Arts: Exquisite Dada : a comprehensive bibliography Stephen C. Foster, 1996 Despite the short life of the Dada movement it has provoked the interest of art historians museum directors and literary critics from all over the world The present volume comprises the literary texts of individual Dadaists and periodicals from all Dada centers as well as books articles exhibition catalogs and bibliographies by international scholars Jo  rgen Sch  fer's Exquisite Dada is the most exhaustive bibliography on Dada that has ever been compiled so far By giving a synopsis of some decades of scholarly research it provides an indispensable source for further studies on the matter
