"Code of Massachusetts regulations, 2014", 2014 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf Code of Massachusetts Regulations held by the Social Law Library of Massachusetts as of January 2020 Mathematics, Affect and Learning Peter Grootenboer, Margaret Marshman, 2015-10-17 This book examines the beliefs attitudes values and emotions of students in Years 5 to 8 aged 10 to 14 years about mathematics and mathematics education Fundamentally this book focuses on the development of affective views and responses towards mathematics and mathematics learning Furthermore it seems that students develop their more negative views of mathematics during the middle school years Years 5 to 8 and so here we concentrate on students in this critical period The book is based on a number of empirical studies including an enquiry undertaken with 45 children in Years 5 and 6 in one school a large scale quantitative study undertaken with students from a range of schools across diverse communities in New Zealand and two related small scale studies with junior secondary students in Australia This book brings substantial empirically based evidence to the widely held perception that many students have negative views of mathematics and these affective responses develop during the middle years of school The data for this book were collected with school students and students who were actually engaged in learning mathematics in their crucial middle school years The findings reported and discussed here are relevant for researchers and mathematics educators policy makers and curriculum developers and teachers and school principals engaged in the teaching of mathematics Monitoring Student Achievement in the 21st Century Heidi Harju-Luukkainen, Nele McElvany, Justine Stang, 2020-04-01 This book draws together leading student assessment academics from across Europe exploring student monitoring policies and practices in a range of countries across 22 chapters The chapters in the first part offer a broad overview on student assessment covering history and current status aims and approaches as well as methodological challenges of international student assessment The second part presents country specific chapters provide an in depth look examining country specific policy and practices and findings of national and or international assessments Findings are critically discussed and recommendations are made for further development of each country s assessment context The book shows similarities and differences within the educational assessment landscape as well as complexity and similarities in assessment policy documents and strategies Given the globalized world we live in today this book fills a need in the higher educational context and is intended for policy makers in different countries as well Critical Approaches Toward a Cosmopolitan Education Sandra R. Schechter, Carl E. James, 2021-08-29 This book aims to reconceptualize teaching and learning in spaces with diverse populations of young people Chapters focus on the schooling experiences and social and cultural adaptation issues of individuals who through the meaning that they assign to their lived experiences ascribe to multiple identity qualifiers Contributors explore the impact of this cosmopolitan awareness on students educators and educational institutions presenting issues such as curricular concerns around civic engagement individual subjectivity versus social identity and the convergence of context specific policy and teaching environments on global dynamics in education reform An emphasis on this understanding promises to better equip educators and policy makers to plan instructional approaches and devise pedagogic resources that serve the needs and career aspirations of an expanding cohort of multifaceted learners

The Essentials of Special Education Research Andrew M. Markelz, Benjamin S. Riden, 2024-08-21

Researchers in special education have been developing a knowledge base of evidence based practices that improve the outcomes of students with disabilities Unfortunately filtering that knowledge into classrooms implemented by special education teachers has been a challenge In The Essentials of Special Education Research Andrew M Markelz and Benjamin S Riden directly address the persistent research to practice gap by systematically presenting the essential components of research that every special education teacher must know The first section investigates the foundations of research and why special education teachers should regularly read research articles It also examines the basic structure of research articles to demystify jargon and provide teachers confidence when reading scientific literature The second section explores various research methodologies that consumers of research must know Methodologies such as literature reviews single case design quantitative qualitative and others are unpacked so that special education teachers know the critical components of these methodologies along with their limitations to become critical consumers of research The third section focuses on putting this knowledge into practice Using practical scenarios the authors demonstrate how a special education teacher can combat common classroom problems by locating and reading relevant research to gain information and implement best practices based on scientific evidence This step by step guide combines the knowledge and skills outlined in this book to truly become a scientific practitioner
