The 1840 translation of the Gospel of Luke as a technology of power Itumeleng D. Mothoagae, 2024-07-26 In this book the author aims to explore the impact of 19th century translations of the Bible into indigenous languages with a specific focus on the Setswana translation The translations have had a profound effect on the religious cultural practices of the indigenous people leading to erosion and alteration of their traditions and identities I argue that it is crucial to consider the translator's intentions and the associated literature such as journals and letters to understand the translation process comprehensively The Setswana Bible was the first to be translated in Africa and tracing the intentions of Robert Moffat the first translator is imperative to understanding the impact of the translation on the receptor culture The methodology adopted is interdisciplinary drawing from linguistics African languages history English literature cultural studies black studies and theology I analyse the impact of the 1840 Gospel of Luke in the context of Setswana culture in South Africa and my findings demonstrate that translations cannot be distinct from the translator To gain a deep understanding of the implications of such texts I adopt a methodology that analyses significant historical literature and primary sources including the records and works of The British and Foreign Bible Society The History of the London Missionary Society and the journals letters and writings of missionaries such as Robert Moffat and John Campbell

España debió de aparecer de pronto altiva noble apasionada poderosa tal como había sido en sus tiempos heroicos. ¿Qué fuerza y qué poder o Inglaterra delir de gozo Europa oprimida se volvió hacia España y todos los pueblos fijaron su mirada en el punto de donde irradiaba de manera tan imprevista un destello de luz que había de alumbrar al mundo. Estas palabras del general francés Maximilien Foy describen gráficamente el entusiasmo que suscitó en todas las naciones europeas el tremendo coraje de los españoles enfrentados en la Guerra de la Independencia al mayor ejército del mundo. La poesía encendida de fuego romántico acogió esa admiración con afán tan beligerante como el de las propias fuerzas que luchaban en el campo de batalla. Si las composiciones de poetas españoles y de carácter popular han recibido hasta ahora cierta atención por parte de los estudiosos, mucho menos es lo que se ha dedicado a conocer la ingente obra poética favorable a la causa de nuestros patriotas escrita por autores ingleses, alemanes, portugueses e incluso franceses. La presente antología auspiciada por la Fundación Dos de Mayo Nacimiento y Libertad en el segundo centenario de la célebre campaña peninsular de Lord Wellington ofrece una cuidada selección de poesía inglesa escrita entre 1808 y 1814 que constituye una valiosa muestra del favor británico hacia la insurrección española y del plantel poético del Reino Unido de entonces. Desde nombres ya consagrados en la época como Wordsworth, Byron, Walter Scott, Southey o Hemans hasta numerosos colaboradores anónimos que publicaban en la prensa y poetas destacados de aquel tiempo aunque hoy sean menos conocidos, Barbauld, Croker, Grant, Gwilliam, Moore o Temple entre otros muchos. Los responsables de la antología, los profesores Agustín Coletes Blanco y Alicia Laspra Rodríguez del Departamento de Filología Anglogermánica y Francesa de la Universidad de Oviedo, han escogido, fijado y traducido los textos ingleses para ofrecer por primera vez a los lectores españoles en edición bilingüe una obra que en buena parte permanecía

desconocida y que ha podido ser recuperada para el patrimonio cultural español
