

Let $a = 3m$...(ii)

From (i) $(3m)^2 = 3b^2 \Rightarrow 9m^2 = 3b^2 \Rightarrow b^2 = 3m^2$

$\Rightarrow b^2$ is a multiple of 3 $\Rightarrow b$ is a multiple of 3, let $b = 3n$...(iii)

From (ii) and (iii), we notice a and b are not coprime.

Hence, our supposition is wrong. Hence, $\sqrt{3}$ is an irrational number.

14. -1 is a zero of the polynomial $2x^3 - x^2 - 5x - 2$

$\Rightarrow (x + 1)$ is a factor of the polynomial $2x^3 - x^2 - 5x - 2$

$$\begin{aligned} \Rightarrow 2x^3 - x^2 - 5x - 2 &= (x + 1)(2x^2 - 3x - 2) \\ &= (x + 1)(2x^2 - 4x + x - 2) = (x + 1)(2x + 1)(x - 2) \end{aligned}$$

For other zeroes $2x + 1 = 0$, $x - 2 = 0 \Rightarrow x = 2, -\frac{1}{2}$

$\Rightarrow x = -\frac{1}{2}, 2$ are the other zeroes of the polynomial $2x^3 - x^2 - 5x - 2$.

15. Let time taken by 1 man to finish the work be x days and time taken by 1 boy to finish the work be y days

\therefore Man's one day's work = $\frac{1}{x}$ part

Boy's one day's work = $\frac{1}{y}$ part

According to the question $\frac{4}{x} + \frac{6}{y} = \frac{1}{5}$ (\because Work is finished in 5 days) and $\frac{3}{x} + \frac{4}{y} = \frac{1}{7}$

Let $\frac{1}{x} = a$ and $\frac{1}{y} = b$

$$\Rightarrow 4a + 6b = \frac{1}{5} \quad \text{...(i)}$$

$$\text{and } 3a + 4b = \frac{1}{7} \quad \text{...(ii)}$$

Multiplying (i) by 3 and (ii) by 4 and subtracting, we get

$$\begin{array}{r} 12a + 18b = \frac{3}{5} \\ 12a + 16b = \frac{4}{7} \\ \hline -2b = \frac{3}{5} - \frac{4}{7} \Rightarrow 2b = \frac{21 - 20}{35} = \frac{1}{35} \end{array}$$

$$\Rightarrow b = \frac{1}{70}$$

Substituting in (i), we get

$$4a + \frac{6}{70} = \frac{1}{5}$$

Mathematics Paper1 For Grade10 November2014:

The State of the Art in Student Engagement Carl Senior,2015-07-10 There is an extensive literature conducted from a range of theoretical perspectives and methodologies on the role of groups and student learning in higher education However here the concept of the group is heavily contested at a theoretical level but within higher education practice characterizing the group has tended to be clear cut Groups of students are often formed within the parameters of specific educational programs to address explicitly defined learning objectives These groups are often small scale and achieve tasks through cooperative or collaborative learning Cooperative learning involves students dividing roles and responsibilities between group members so learning becomes an independent process and outcome On the other hand collaborative learning involves students working together by developing shared meanings and knowledge to solve a task or problem From this perspective learning is conceptualized as both a social process and individual outcome That is collaborative learning may facilitate individual student conceptual understanding and hence lead to higher academic achievement The empirical evidence is encouraging as has been shown that students working collaboratively tend to achieve higher grades than students working independently However the above perspectives on student engagement assume that groups are formed within the confines of formal learning environments e g lecture theaters involve students on the same degree program have the explicit function of achieving a learning task and disband once this has been achieved However students may also use existing social networks such as friendship groups as a mechanism for learning which may occur outside of formal learning environments There is an extensive literature on the role and benefits of friendship groups on student learning within primary and secondary education but there is a distinct lack of research within higher education This ebook is innovative and ambitious and will highlight and consolidate the current understanding of the role that student based engagement behaviors may serve in effective pedagogy A unique aspect of this research topic will be the fact that scholars will also be welcome to submit articles that describe the efficacy of the full range of approaches that have been employed to facilitate student engagement across the sector

Global Action on School Library Guidelines Barbara A. Schultz-Jones,Dianne

Oberg,2015-06-16 This book celebrates the new IFLA School Library Guidelines and shows how the Guidelines can be used in improving school library services Each chapter describes innovative initiatives for developing implementing and promoting school library guidelines The book provides inspiration and guidance for the creation of national school library standards and for the development and use of standards and guidelines to change school library practice to define the teaching role of school librarians to guide the initial preparation of school librarians and to advocate for school library services Contributors to the book come from around the world Australia Canada Ethiopia France Malaysia Norway Poland Portugal Spain Sweden and the United States Their work illustrates the shared commitment of school librarians around the world to teaching and learning for all as envisioned in the IFLA UNESCO School Library Manifesto

The Education Invasion Joy

Pullmann,2017-03-14 Most Americans had no idea what Common Core was in 2013 according to polls But it had been creeping into schools nationwide over the previous three years and children were feeling its effects They cried over math homework so mystifying their parents could not help them even in elementary school They read motley assortments of informational text instead of classic literature They dreaded the high stakes tests in unfamiliar formats that were increasingly controlling their classrooms How did this latest and most sweeping reform of American education come in mostly under the radar Joy Pullmann started tugging on a thread of reports from worried parents and frustrated teachers and it led to a big tangle of history and politics intrigue and arrogance She unwound it to discover how a cabal of private foundation honchos and unelected public officials cooked up a set of rules for what American children must learn in core K 12 classes and how the Obama administration pressured states to adopt them Thus a federalized education scheme took root despite legal prohibitions against federal involvement in curriculum Common Core and its testing regime were touted as an absolute game changer in public education yet the evidence so far suggests that kids are actually learning less under it Why then was such a costly and disruptive agenda imposed on the nation s schools Who benefits And how can citizens regain local self governance in education so their children s minds will be fed a more nourishing intellectual diet and be protected from the experiments of emboldened bureaucrats The Education Invasion offers answers and remedies

Research for Educational Change Jill Adler,Anna Sfard,2016-06-17 Research for Educational Change presents ways in which educational research can fulfil its commitments to educational practice Focussing its discussion within the context of mathematics education it argues that while research generated insights can have beneficial effects on learning and teaching the question of how these effects are to be generated and sustained is far from evident The question of how to turn research into educational improvement is discussed here in the context of learning and teaching hindered by poverty and social injustice In the first part of the book four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom In the second part each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms Combining two discourses that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice the book deals with the perenial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education educational research and classroom practices This book will be key reading for postgraduates researchers and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education education research teacher education and classroom practice It will also appeal to teacher educators practitioners and undergraduate students interested in educational research

Linguistic Influences on Mathematical Cognition Ann

Dowker, Hans-Christoph Nuerk, 2017-06-16 For many years an abstract amodal semantic magnitude representation largely independent of verbal linguistic representations has been viewed as the core numerical or mathematical representation This assumption has been substantially challenged in recent years Linguistic properties affect not only verbal representations of numbers but also numerical magnitude representation spatial magnitude representations calculation parity representation place value representation and even early number acquisition Thus we postulate that numerical and arithmetic processing are not fully independent of linguistic processing This is not to say that in patients magnitude processing cannot function independently of linguistic processing we just suppose these functions are connected in the functioning brain So far much research about linguistic influences on numerical cognition has simply demonstrated that language influences number without investigating the level at which a particular language influence operates After an overview we present new findings on language influences on seven language levels Conceptual Conceptual properties of language Syntactic The grammatical structure of languages beyond the word level influences Semantic The semantic meaning or existence of words Lexical The lexical composition of words in particular number words Visuo spatial orthographic Orthographic properties such as the writing reading direction of a language Phonological Phonological phonetic properties of languages Other language related skills Verbal working memory and other cognitive skills related to language representations We hope that this book provides a new and structured overview on the exciting influences of linguistic processing on numerical cognition at almost all levels of language processing
