

Dear lovely,

I know we're not together or anything but I just felt like I have to admit it. It's really stupid, it is. And I know ^{but} there is simply no  way to change my feelings. I don't know if you will ignore this or anything, but I fell in love with you. Simply your laugh, smile, eyes, the way you talk about something you aspire, the kisses you place all over me, the way you wrap your arms around me, your body, your soul, your warmth, your smell. And it gets stronger every time we meet. I fell in love with you, simply because you're you put it One must be continually giving while those qualities of her earlier correspondence remain undiminished the precision and directness the intelligence and wit the dark incisiveness as much as sheer fun Above all perhaps these letters comprise a record of very considerable courage against increasingly adverse odds as they approach the final years of her life The fifth and final volume of the Collected Letters of Katherine Mansfield covers the almost thirteen months during which her attention at first was firmly set on a last chance medical cure then finally on something very different if death came to seem inevitable how should one behave in the time that remained so one could truly say one lived Mansfield s biographers like her friends have wondered at the seemingly extraordinary decision to ditch conventional medicine for the bizarre choice of Gurdjieff s Institute for the Harmonious Development of Man at Fontainebleau These letters show the clarity of mind and will that led to that decision the courage and distress in making it and the gaiety even once it was made She went against what her education her husband and most of her friends would regard as reasonable as she opted to spend her last months with Russian migr s and a strange assortment of Gurdjieff disciples which she was not But Fontainebleau give her the space and the incentive to shake free from the intellectualism that she thought the malaise of her time as she worked at kitchen chores took in the details of farm life tried to learn Russian and attempted to reach total honesty with herself If I were allowed one simple cry to God she wrote in one of her last letters that cry would be I want to be REAL Publisher Life and Letters of Toru Dutt Toru Dutt, Harihar Das, 1921 A New and Complete Concordance Or Verbal Index to Words, Phrases, & Passages in the Dramatic Works of Shakespeare with a Supplementary Concordance to the Poems John Bartlett, 1889 Works of George Eliot: George Eliot's life as related in her letters and journals, arranged and edited by her husband, J.
