The author examines constructions of diegesis and the use of various performance tools including physical theatre, puppetry, and postdramatic performance. She discusses stage representations of interior experiences of dementia, selfhood in dementia, the demarcation of those with dementia from those without, endings, erasure, and the pursuit of catharsis, placelessness, and disruptions of traditional dramatic constructions of time, and ultimately performances creatively led by people with dementia. The book traces patterns of narrativisation on the stage, including common dramaturgical forms, settings, and character relationships, as well as examples that transcend
