Labs of Our Own Sig / Sara Giordano, 2025-02-11 From climate change to COVID 19 to reproductive justice there has been deep political polarization around science Labs of Our Own provides a unique entry point into these twenty first century science wars by focusing on our affective relationships to science The book delves into various sites where scientists teachers artists and activists claim to create more democratic access to science from DIY biology community labs to feminist classrooms to activist science practitioners The reader will find that these claims for and attempts at democratic sciences not only impact what counts as science and who counts as a scientist but reconfigure who is included in the proper public Instead of arguing for a knee jerk defense of science against right wing attacks Labs of Our Own builds the case for a feminist antiracist decolonial queer science tinkering practice that intentionally politically and ethically acts to produce new challenges to the definition and boundaries of the human

The Anthropocene Eva Horn, Hannes Bergthaller, 2019-09-11 The Anthropocene is a concept which challenges the foundations of humanities scholarship as it is traditionally understood It calls not only for closer engagement with the natural sciences but also for a synthetic approach bringing together insights from the various subdisciplines in the humanities and social sciences which have addressed themselves to ecological questions in the past This book is an introduction to and structured survey of the attempts that have been made to take the measure of the Anthropocene and explores some of the paradigmatic problems which it raises The difficulties of an introduction to the Anthropocene lie not only in the disciplinary breadth of the subject but also in the rapid pace at which the surrounding debates have been and still are unfolding This introduction proposes a conceptual map which however provisionally charts these ongoing discussions across a variety of scientific and humanistic disciplines This book will be essential reading for students and researchers in the environmental humanities particularly in literary and cultural studies history philosophy and environmental studies
