Military Intervention During The Clinton Administration A Critical Comparison:

Military Intervention During the Clinton Administration U.s. Army War College,2014-10-25 This book reviews the Clinton administration's approach to military intervention by examining the Rwandan genocide crisis of 1994 and the Kosovo crisis of 1999. It seeks to answer the question of why the U.S. intervened militarily to stop ethnic cleansing in Kosovo but did not intervene to stop genocide in Rwanda. Before looking at the two cases, the book provides background discussion on U.S. national interests and a discussion of the Clinton administration's National Security Strategy formulation, citing salient points of its published strategies. After providing a background for each crisis, it applies a framework of five interrelated criteria to examine the two crises. The book concludes that four of the five interrelated areas—ideology, convictions, global systems, and policy inertia—shaped the Clinton administration's reactions to both crises. It also concludes that the mass media had little effect on the administration's response to either crisis.

Military Intervention During the Clinton Administration Damian P. Carr, Army War College (U.S.),2003 This study reviews the Clinton administration's approach to military intervention by examining the Rwandan genocide crisis of 1994 and the Kosovo crisis of 1999. It seeks to answer the question of why the U.S. intervened militarily to stop ethnic cleansing in Kosovo but did not intervene to stop genocide in Rwanda. Before looking at the two cases, the paper provides background discussion on U.S. national interests and a discussion of the Clinton administration's National Security Strategy formulation, citing salient points of its published strategies. Stopping Mass Killings in Africa Douglas Carl Peifer,2009-05 This is a compendium of case studies that seek to describe the best uses of military power, particularly airpower, in response to genocide. The writers examine recent instances of genocide in Somalia, Rwanda, and Cote d'Ivoire to draw out useful generalizations concerning the nature of genocide, international reactions to genocide, and effective responses to genocide and the possibility of genocide.

Eurasia's Regional Powers Compared – China, India, Russia Shinichiro Tabata,2014-12-17 Taking a long view and a wide perspective, this book by Japan's leading scholars on Asia and Eurasia provides a comprehensive and systematic comparison of the three greatest powers in the region and assesses how far the recent growth trajectories of these countries are sustainable in the long run.

The book demonstrates the huge impact on the region of these countries. It examines the population resource and economic basis for the countries' rise, considers political, social and cultural factors and sets recent developments in a long historical context. Throughout the different development paths of the three countries are compared and contrasted and the new models for the future of the world order which they represent are analysed. In this volume eleven leading scholars apply their expertise to understanding what if anything has changed and what has not, why the patterns are as they are and just what the future might bring. Together the authors address political, moral and military factors in the decision to use or avoid military force. Case studies of the Gulf War and Bosnia, analyses of the role of women in the armed forces and the role of intelligence agencies and studies of inter branch and inter agency tensions and cooperation inform the various chapters. The volume will help scholars, policy makers and concerned citizens contemplate national alternatives when force threatens. BOOK JACKET International

The threats to peace in Africa largely come not through interstate war but through conflict within nations. Peace in Africa will come only when Africans create and maintain diplomatic and military methods of keeping it. This report analyzes the myriad obstacles to conflict prevention in Africa and suggests those which might be susceptible to short and medium term removal. Africa's security situation will continue to deteriorate unless the nations of Africa take charge.
