

Personal Narrative on a Graduation Event

Our high school graduation event remains one of the most important events in my life. The graduation was not just an event but also a transition towards the achievement of my goals and objectives, both in education and career. Besides, the graduation was an indication that I was ready to take the next step towards the achievements of my goals and objectives. The event was not only crucial for me but also for other students who managed to make the list of the final graduating students. Like a majority of other graduation events in our school, this one created a feeling of belonging, a sense of accomplishment, and a transition towards maturity. Besides, our graduation meant more than a ceremony to a majority of the students. Such an event meant changes to our lives, a time to grow up into adults, more responsibilities, moving away from our parents, and a time to realize our dreams, in both education and careers. We have put too much effort over the years to reach this point, to make the list of the graduating students, and get opportunities to join campus, which remains the most critical times of our lives. Personally, this remains to be the happiest day of my life.

The graduation ceremony was held in our high school grounds, and a majority of the people in attendance included the students, families, and employees of our institutions, the preparations had been conducted for three days. The school had focused on ensuring that the event was a success, mainly based on the increased number of students from the previous year. The administration had set aside the school grounds as the most convenient location for the event. Besides, more resources and workforce had been provided on time and partnerships made with local authorities, which was essential in making sure that everything was ready for the students to transition from high school to tertiary institutions, especially colleges and universities. In the morning hours of Friday, the organizers were finishing the final touches to ensure that the facilities, equipment, and other necessities were operational. Besides, the contributions of the local organizers, students, and other stakeholders made this event a success. Just like the majority of other students, I had waited for such an event for four years. A feeling of anxiety was overwhelming. Families for a majority of the students, including my parents and siblings, had arrived to witness such an occasion.

Story, Essay, and Verse Charles Swain Thomas, Harry Gilbert Paul, 1921 Writing about Literature Lynn Klamkin, Margot Livesey, 1986 The Rinehart Reader, 1993 Commonsense Composition Crystle Bruno, 2012-05-08
This textbook follows California Language Arts Standards for grades 9-12 to provide a generalized understanding of composition and to serve as a supplementary aid to high school English teachers Resources in Education, 1989-04 Patterns for College Writing Laurie G. Kirsznar, Stephen R. Mandell, 2012-02-01 Laurie Kirsznar and Stephen Mandell authors with nearly thirty years of experience teaching college writing know what works in the classroom and have a knack for picking just the right readings. In Patterns for College Writing they provide students with exemplary rhetorical models and instructors with class-tested selections that balance classic and contemporary essays. Along with more examples of student writing than any other reader, Patterns has the most comprehensive coverage of active reading research and the writing process with a five-chapter mini-rhetoric, the clearest explanations of the patterns of development and the most thorough apparatus of any rhetorical reader. All reasons why Patterns for College Writing is the best-selling reader in the country. And the new edition includes exciting new readings and expanded coverage of critical reading, working with sources, and research. It is now available as an interactive Bedford e-book and in a variety of other e-book formats that can be downloaded to a computer tablet or e-reader. Read the preface Scribner's Magazine ..., 1927 Scribner's Magazine Robert Bridges, Alfred Sheppard Dashiell, Harlan Logan, 1927 Making the Grade Tony Wagner, 2003-12-16 This book provides a guide for a long overdue public dialogue about why and how we need to reinvent our nation's schools. How has the world changed for our children? What do all students need to know in light of these changes? How do we hold students and schools accountable for results? What do good schools look like and what must leaders do to create more of these schools? These are some of the questions that drive this book. The answers emerging to these questions may surprise many. The most successful public schools of the 21st century look a lot more like our 19th-century village schools than our current factory model of schooling. This book describes these new village schools that have been created in the last decade and suggests that they are a prototype for the schools of the future. The Prose Reader Kim Flachmann, Michael Flachmann, 1990 Discovery, an Inductive Approach to College Writing Bonnie Klomp Stevens, 1983 Scribner's Magazine Edward Livermore Burlingame, Robert Bridges, Alfred Sheppard Dashiell, Harlan Logan, 1927 Authentic Assessment in Action Linda Darling-Hammond, Beverly F. Falk, Jacqueline Ancess, 2017-10-05 This book examines through case studies of elementary and secondary schools how five schools have developed authentic performance-based assessments of students' learning and how this work has interacted with and influenced the teaching and learning experiences students encounter in school. This important and timely book reveals the changing dynamics of classroom life as it moves from more traditional pedagogy to one that asks students to master intellectual and practical skills that are eminently transferable to real-life social settings and workplaces The issue of assessment comes first but we see in the following case studies how it becomes powerfully enveloped in the processes of learning and teaching of informing students teachers parents and others of how the children are doing The portraits explicitly and implicitly suggest a deep fair and defensible way to answer the question How m I doing in a manner that helps this child and eventually every child From the Foreword by Theodore R Sizer Informative and thought provoking American Journal of Education Reflections William Hazzard Barnwell, Julie Price, 1985 Undergraduate Study University of Illinois at Chicago Circle, 1960 University of Illinois Bulletin , 1958 Critical Theory and the Teaching of Literature James F.
