Keywords In Writing Studies John Vandenberg:

Keywords in Writing Studies Paul Heilker, John Vandenberg, 2015-02-15 Keywords in Writing Studies is an exploration of the principal ideas and ideals of an emerging academic field as they are constituted by its specialized vocabulary. A sequel to the 1996 work Keywords in Composition Studies, this new volume traces the evolution of the field's lexicon, taking into account the wide variety of theoretical, educational, professional, and institutional developments that have redefined it over the past two decades. Contributors address the development, transformation, and interconnections among thirty-six of the most critical terms that make up writing studies. Looking beyond basic definitions or explanations, they explore the multiple layers of meaning within the terms that writing scholars currently use, exchange, and question. Each term featured is a part of the general disciplinary parlance, and each is a highly contested focal point of significant debates about matters of power, identity, and values. Each essay begins with the assumption that its central term is important precisely because its meaning is open and multiplex. Keywords in Writing Studies reveals how the key concepts in the field are used and even challenged rather than advocating particular usages and the particular vision of the field that they imply. The volume will be of great interest to both graduate students and established scholars.

Keywords in Creative Writing Wendy Bishop, David Starkey, 2006-01-15 Wendy Bishop and David Starkey have created a remarkable resource volume for creative writing students and other writers just getting started. In two to ten page discussions, these authors introduce forty-one central concepts in the fields of creative writing and writing instruction with discussions that are accessible yet grounded in scholarship and years of experience. Keywords in Creative Writing provides a brief but comprehensive introduction to the field of creative writing through its landmark terms, exploring concerns as abstract as postmodernism and identity politics alongside very practical interests of beginning writers.

like contests agents and royalties This approach makes the book ideal for the college classroom as well as the writer's bookshelf and unique in the field combining the pragmatic accessibility of popular writer's handbooks with a wider more scholarly vision of theory and research

Keywords in Composition Studies Paul Heilker, Peter Vandenberg, 1996

Keywords in Composition Studies is the first systematic inquiry into the vocabulary of writing teachers and theorists In brief yet heavily researched essays contributors explore the development of and interconnections among fifty five of the most consequential words in the field It is with these critical terms that the contemporary field of composition has been composed and in this sense Keywords in Composition Studies is an introduction to the principal ideas and ideals of compositionists Yet this book is neither a dictionary nor an encyclopedia it does not attempt to capture the established knowledge of a unified discipline through its vocabulary but rather explores the multiple layers of meaning inhabiting the words writing teachers and theorists have depended and continue to depend on most Each essay begins with the assumption that its central term is important precisely because its meaning is open overdetermined The purpose of each essay is to foreground a range of meaning signified by its central term rather than to pinpoint a meaning In this sense Keywords in Composition Studies is a practical model for reading the texts of an expanding and unsettled field

Feeling Our Way Wendy Bishop, Deborah Coxwell Teague, 2004-03 This provocative and sometimes humorous collection of essays written by college writing teachers for college writing teachers explores seldom discussed issues to help TAs develop confidence in overcoming classroom challenges Teachers both seasoned and new to the profession create a dialogue by sharing their rich and varied experiences and responses to classroom and department situations Each Part presents 4 to 7 short essays by Adjuncts and TAs focusing on their experiences and lessons learned At the end of each Part more experienced teachers respond to the ideas generated in the preceding essays and add their own advice concerns and solutions Part 1 Approaching the Classroom centers on entering a new writing program and succeeding as a foreign born writing teacher Part 2 Inside Out focuses on gaining confidence as a teacher and managing sexual politics and power struggles in the classroom Part 3 Beyond the Classroom helps readers question the teaching profession and offers advice on surviving department politics An Appendix provides a useful listing of composition texts that offer further helpful advice

Classroom Spaces and Writing Instruction Ed Nagelhout, Carol Rutz, 2004 This work calls attention to the ways that teachers of writing must attend to the idea of the classroom must be conscious of the spaces in which they meet students and must be aware of the physical material conditions that constrain or affect the teaching of writing

Under Construction Christine Farris, Chris M Anson, 1998-11 Few composition scholars two decades ago would have imagined the rate at which their field is now developing expanding beyond its boundaries creating new alliances and locating new sites for research and generation of knowledge In their introduction to this volume Farris and Anson argue that faced with a welter of competing models compositionists too quickly dichotomize and dismiss The contributors to Under Construction therefore address themselves to the need for commerce among competing visions of the field They represent diverse settings and distinct points of view but their overriding interest is in promoting a view of the field that values interaction and mutual development above dogmatics and isolation

Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy, 1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice a lack of emphasis on theory and an exclusive reliance on the writing process As its disciplinary status has grown the field has become far more theoretical Composition studies has expanded its focus reconceptualized the writing process and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism social construction gender and genre which were largely unknown in 1965 now dominate discussion This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies The volume consists of 66 entries each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories including key elements basic concepts and claims and information about seminal or particularly influential works It then reviews the theory's critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works

Revision Revisited Alice S. Horning, 2002 Revision is essential to writing This unique volume reviews the primary findings of key studies of revision re-examines data on the relevance of personality type preferences for understanding revising explores the text features writers tend to focus on when they rework a text reviews the teaching advice given in books on revising by teachers and writers and presents detailed case studies both in academia and the workplace

topics as How to Write the Perfect Query Letter The Knockout Nonfiction Book Proposal How to Thrive After Signing a Publishing Contract Mastering Ghostwriting and Collaboration Free Versus Fee The Issue of Literary Agency Fees About the Author Jeff Herman is the founder of The Jeff Herman Literary Agency a leading New York agency He has sold hundreds of titles and represents dozens of top authors Herman frequently speaks to writer s groups and at conferences on the topic of getting published JAC ,1999 Relations, Locations, Positions Peter Vandenberg,Sue Hum,Jennifer Clary-Lemon,2006 This anthology for beginning teachers and graduate students in composition studies and other related fields begins with the premise that writing is always social a dialogue between self and other This social turn not only underscores the value of the writing process by encouraging students to prewrite draft and revise together but more important it also focuses on postprocess by foregrounding approaches to teaching writing that highlight the importance of context Thus this anthology seeks to move beyond process by building on the valuable lessons from process pedagogy and by promoting the idea that writing stands for a radically complex network of phenomena From publisher s description Passions Pedagogies and 21st Century Technologies Gail Hawisher,Cynthia L. Selfe,1999 Gail Hawisher and Cynthia Selfe created a volume that set the agenda in the field of computers and composition scholarship for a decade The technology changes that scholars of composition studies faced as the new century opened couldn t have been more deserving of passionate study While we have always used technologies e g the pencil to communicate with each other the electronic technologies we now use have changed the world in ways that we have yet to identify or appreciate fully Likewise the study of language and literate exchange even our understanding of terms like literacy text and visual has changed beyond recognition challenging even our capacity to articulate them As Hawisher Selfe and their contributors engage these challenges and explore their importance they find themselves engaged in the messy contradictory and fascinating work of understanding how to live in a new world and a new century The result is a broad deep and rewarding anthology of work still among the standard works of computers and composition study Before the Classroom Mary Lou Odom,2004 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1996-10
