Maths Paper 2 June 2013 Memo:

Cognitive Communication and Cooperative HetNet Coexistence Maria-Gabriella Di Benedetto, Faouzi Bader, 2014-01-16

This book written by experts from universities and major industrial research laboratories is devoted to the very hot topic of cognitive radio and networking for cooperative coexistence of heterogeneous wireless networks. Selected highly relevant advanced research is presented on spectrum sensing and progress toward the realization of accurate radio environment mapping, biomimetic learning for self-organizing networks, security threats with a special focus on primary user emulation attack and cognition as a tool for green next generation networks. The research activities covered include work undertaken within the framework of the European COST Action IC0902 which is geared towards the definition of a European platform for cognitive radio and networks. Communications engineers, R & D engineers, researchers and students will all benefit from this complete reference on recent advances in wireless communications and the design and implementation of cognitive radio systems and networks.

Global Flood Hazard Guy J-P. Schumann, Paul D. Bates, Heiko Apel, Giuseppe T. Aronica, 2018-06-05
Global Flood Hazard Subject Category Winner PROSE Awards 2019 Earth Science
Selected from more than 500 entries demonstrating exceptional scholarship and making a significant contribution to the field of study. Flooding is a costly natural disaster in terms of damage to land property and infrastructure. This volume describes the latest tools and technologies for modeling, mapping and predicting large scale flood risk. It also presents readers with a range of remote sensing data sets successfully used for predicting and mapping floods at different scales. These resources can enable policymakers, public planners and developers to plan for and respond to flooding with greater accuracy and effectiveness. Describes the latest large scale modeling approaches including hydrological models, 2-D flood inundation models and global flood forecasting models. Showcases new tools and technologies such as Aqueduct, a new web-based tool used for global assessment and projection of future flood risk under climate change scenarios. Features case studies describing best practice uses of modeling techniques, tools and technologies. Global Flood Hazard is an indispensable resource for researchers, consultants, practitioners and policy makers dealing with flood risk, flood disaster response, flood management and flood mitigation.

Hello World Hannah Fry, 2018-09-18
Shortlisted for the 2018 Baillie Gifford Prize and the 2018 Royal Society Investment Science Book Prize. A beautifully accessible guide. One of the best books yet written on data and algorithms. Times UK. If you were accused of a crime, who would you rather decide your sentence: a mathematically consistent algorithm incapable of empathy or a compassionate human judge prone to bias and error? What if you want to buy a driverless car and must choose between one programmed to save as many lives as possible and another that prioritizes the lives of its own passengers? And would you agree to share your family's full medical history if you were told that it would help researchers find a cure for cancer? These are just some of the dilemmas that we are beginning to face as we approach the age of the algorithm when it feels as if the machines reign supreme. Already these lines of code are telling us what to watch where to go whom to date and even whom to send to jail But as we rely on algorithms to automate big important decisions in crime justice healthcare transportation and money they raise questions about what we want our world to look like What matters most Helping doctors with diagnosis or preserving privacy Protecting victims of crime or preventing innocent people being falsely accused Hello World takes us on a tour through the good the bad and the downright ugly of the algorithms that surround us on a daily basis Mathematician Hannah Fry reveals their inner workings showing us how algorithms are written and implemented and demonstrates the ways in which human bias can literally be written into the code By weaving in relatable real world stories with accessible explanations of the underlying mathematics that power algorithms Hello World helps us to determine their power expose their limitations and examine whether they really are improvement on the human systems they replace Disorder and the Disinformation Society Jonathan Paul Marshall, James Goodman, Didar Zowghi, Francesca da Rimini, 2015-04-17 This book is the first general social analysis that seriously considers the daily experience of information disruption and software failure within contemporary Western society Through an investigation of informationalism defined as a contemporary form of capitalism it describes the social processes producing informational disorder While most social theory sees disorder as secondary pathological or uninteresting this book takes disordering processes as central to social life The book engages with theories of information society which privilege information order offering a strong counterpoint centred on disinformation Disorder and the Disinformation Society offers a practical agenda arguing that difficulties in producing software are both inherent to the process of developing software and in the social dynamics of informationalism It outlines the dynamics of software failure as they impinge on of information workers and on daily life explores why computerized finance has become inherently self disruptive asks how digital enclosure and intellectual property create conflicts over cultural creativity and disrupt informational accuracy and scholarship and reveals how social media can extend but also distort the development of social movements
