

A • The school system

This is the system for state education in most parts of England and Wales. State schools are free and operated by the country. Parents pay to send their children to private schools.

age	education
3	Almost all children attend (go to, fn) nursery school for up to 15 hours a week.
5	Everyone starts primary school .
11	Pupils (students at school) go to secondary school .
16	Pupils take/do GCSE exams , in up to ten subjects. Then they can go to a college for vocational (job) training , e.g. hotel management or travel and tourism courses, or they can stay at school for two more years.
18	Pupils take A-level exams in three or four subjects, and then they can leave school and get a job or go on to university (continue their education at university), or go to a college for further education/training, e.g. teaching or business studies.

B • The school timetable

The school day is divided into about 5-7 lessons, and over the course of a week, most pupils do/study about ten subjects, including English, maths, history, science, etc. There's usually a one-hour lunch break (period of rest between work), and a break in the morning and afternoon as well.

Language

In American English the subject is maths, but in British English it is maths.

The school year is usually divided into three terms (periods of study), with each term being about 13 weeks, although some schools are now having shorter terms and more frequent holidays. At the end of the school year, pupils usually take/do exams before they break up (end classes for the term). After the summer holidays, they go back (return) for the new school year.

C • School rules

In the past schools generally had more rules, and if you broke the rules<sup>1</sup>, you were punished. At my school, for example, pupils sometimes had to stay behind<sup>2</sup> and write an essay. I used to get into trouble<sup>3</sup> for wearing lipstick.

I remember we had to call the male teachers 'sir' and female teachers 'miss', and we had to wear a horrible uniform<sup>4</sup>. Nowadays, the atmosphere<sup>5</sup> is more relaxed<sup>6</sup>, older pupils can often dress<sup>7</sup> the way they want – as long as they're reasonably smart<sup>8</sup> – and the teachers are not as strict<sup>9</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> instructions telling you what you must or must not do

<sup>2</sup> did something wrong

<sup>3</sup> stay in a place when others leave

<sup>4</sup> do something wrong and be punished

<sup>5</sup> special clothes

<sup>6</sup> the feeling in a place or situation

<sup>7</sup> comfortable and informal

<sup>8</sup> wear clothes

<sup>9</sup> well dressed and not too casual

<sup>10</sup> A strict teacher punishes pupils who do something wrong.
