Zodpey, Roger A. Harrison, Michal Grivna, John R. Finnegan, Connie J. Evashwick, 2018-03-16 Good quality management of the health system demands a critical mass of health professionals with sound technical knowledge The education that produces a workforce of appropriate size and skills is often a challenge in the delivery of quality health services Incidentally health professionals education has not kept pace with the new emerging challenges Recent globalization of health has further led to international migration of health professionals thereby leading to cross border recognition of health workers with an appropriate skill mix knowledge and competence The Lancet Commission Report of 2010 highlighted the need to develop a common strategy at a global level for postgraduate medical nursing and public health education that reaches beyond the confines of national borders and the silos of individual professions This vision would require a series of instructional and institutional reforms which should be guided by two proposed outcomes transformative learning and interdependence in education The purpose of this Research Topic is to increase the shared understanding of the current status of the education of the health workforce around the globe particularly those working in the public health sector With this foundation further research and evaluation studies can then be done with a perspective that addresses global workforce issues impacting access prevention and care

Open Access Neil Jacobs,2006-07-31 This book brings together many of the worlds leading open access experts to provide an analysis of the key strategic technical and economic aspects on the topic of open access Open access to research papers is perhaps a defining debate for publishers librarians university managers and many researchers within the international academic community Starting with a description of the current situation and its shortcomings this book then defines the varieties of open access and addresses some of the many misunderstandings to which the term sometimes gives rise There are chapters on the technologies involved researchers perspectives and the business models of key players These issues are then illustrated in a series of case studies from around the world including the USA UK Netherlands Australia and India Open access is a far reaching shift in scholarly communication and the book concludes by going beyond todays debate and looking at the kind of research world that would be possible with open access to research outputs Chapters by leading experts in the field including Professor Jean Claude Gu n Clifford Lynch Stevan Harnad Peter Suber Charles Bailey Jr Alma Swan Fred Friend John Shipp and Leo Waaijers Discussion of open access from a wide range of perspectives Country case studies summarising open access in the USA UK Netherlands Australia and India Qualitative and Quantitative Methods in Libraries Anthi Katsirikou,Christos H.
