Le Plaisir Brut:

Blast, Corrupt, Dismantle, Erase Brett Josef Grubisic, Gisèle M. Baxter, Tara Lee, 2014-06-16 What do literary dystopias reflect about the times In Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase contributors address this amorphous but pervasive genre using diverse critical methodologies to examine how North America is conveyed or portrayed in a perceived age of crisis accelerated uncertainty and political volatility Drawing from contemporary novels such as Cormac McCarthy's The Road Neil Gaiman's American Gods and the work of Margaret Atwood and William Gibson to name a few this book examines dystopian literature produced by North American authors between the signing of NAFTA 1994 and the tenth anniversary of 9 11 2001 As the texts illustrate awareness of and deep concern about perceived vulnerabilities ends of water oil food capitalism empires stable climates ways of life non human species and entire human civilizations have become central to public discourse over the same period By asking questions such as What are the distinctive qualities of post NAFTA North American dystopian literature and What does this literature reflect about the tensions and contradictions of the inchoate continental community of North America Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase serves to resituate dystopian writing within a particular geo social setting and introduce a productive means to understand both North American dystopian writing and its relevant engagements with a restricted mapped reality

Ecrire la Ville Au Dix-huitième Siècle Síoфра Pierse, 2004 The city intrigues and fascinates in every era In this book the author explores images of urban life and the city as depicted in 18th century French writings with particular reference to Paris Geneva and the utopian ideal The 18th century French city posed particular challenges to writer and citizen alike presenting possibilities and pitfalls specific to the pre Revolutionary decades In contrast to previous studies of the beautiful or of the imaginary city these essays in this collection consider everyday life on the streets of the metropolis providing an outlook that is novel and markedly distinct Most striking is the dramatic change in focus between the early and late decades of this troubled century Initially the city can be construed as a space which allows individuals to evolve and to flourish Later in the century the city is depicted textually as being unstable in both moral and civic terms In a stark transition the city thus evolves from a place of great potential into a space of real danger teetering on the verge of revolutionary chaos
