Le Temps La Plus Commune Des Fictions:

Le temps, la plus commune des fictions Véronique Le Ru, 2012 Dire que le temps est la plus commune des fictions peut apparaître comme une provocation Le temps n'est-il pas ce qui rythme la vie de tout un chacun Si rien d'humain ne m'est étranger n'est-ce pas parce que je partage la connaissance commune tous les êtres humains que mon temps est compté et qu'un jour je vais mourir Et ma conscience du temps n'est-elle pas elle-même marquée par le temps social du groupe auquel j'appartiens Le temps est individuel le temps est social le temps est même universel puisque le Temps universel TU sert d'unité à tous les temps relatifs la situation géographique d'un pays par rapport au méridien de Greenwich Mais si le temps fait sens de toutes parts comment alors justifier la proposition qui le réduit au statut de fiction même la plus commune Le propos de cet ouvrage est de montrer que si nous interrogeons les différents sens du temps nous sommes irrésistiblement incités à affirmer qu'il n'est qu'une fiction qui résulte au sens où elle emporte l'adhésion du plus grand nombre et qui constitue tous les niveaux un instrument majeur de domination Under Construction Dirk de Geest, 2000 L'épuisement du biographique? Vincent Broqua, Guillaume Marche, 2010-10-12 Pourquoi penser le biographique N'est-il pas possible Le silence semble l'avoir vidé de son contenu et de sa substance et l'a réduit à un état d'affaiblissement presque complet dans le domaine des sciences sociales comme dans celui de la critique littéraire L'enjeu de cet ouvrage est d'affirmer que le biographique déborde la biographie et de considérer le biographique comme une condition du retour de la biographie au moyen de son dépasement Cet ouvrage rassemble des travaux abordant Le domaine public en droit algérien : réalité et fiction Tahar Khalfoune, 2004-12-01 La transposition du concept de domaine public en droit algérien n'est pas sans soulever certaines difficultés Tout en conservant sa dénomination et sa coquille ce concept est présent par des éléments la fois de droit socialiste et de droit islamique C'est pourquoi derrière l'apparence d'unité se dissimule un pluralisme domanial En voulant l'adapter aux réalités locales le législateur l'a transformé en concept mou sans rigueur et sans cohérence En un mot c'est bien son intelligibilité qui se trouve en dernière analyse mise mal Origins of Futuristic Fiction Paul K. Alkon, 2010-08-01 For nearly two thousand years the future was a realm reserved for prophets poets astrologers and practitioners of deliberative rhetoric Then in 1659 the French writer Jacques Guttin published his romance Epigone which carried the subtitle the history of the future century Unlike the stories of space travel that were popular at the time or the tales of travel to distant earthly lands which had long been a familiar literary genre Guttin's romance described human societies displaced by time as well as by space and heroes not of his own day but of a future age Paul Alkon's Origins of Futuristic Fiction examines the earliest works of prose fiction set in future time the forgotten writings of the seventeenth eighteenth and nineteenth centuries that are the precursors of such well known masterpieces of the form as H G Wells's The Time Machine Aldous Huxley's Brave New World and George Orwell's 1984 The first secular story to break the imaginative barrier against tales of the future Epigone marked the emergence of a form unknown to classical medieval or renaissance literature Guttin's courageous displacement of narrative into future time was followed by writers such as Samuel Madden Louis Sebastien Mercier Cousin de Granville Mary Shelley and Emile Souvestre who wrote books with such titles as Memoirs of the Twentieth Century The Year 2440 The Last Man and The World As It Will Be Most extraordinary though may be Felix Bodin's great metafictional Le roman de l'avenir the novel of the future Both a narrative of the future and a poetics of the new genre this book identified in the previous isolated works set in future time a situation rarely encountered in literary history in which the possibility for a new form clearly existed without yet being altogether achieved In the introduction to his uncompleted novel Bodin presented his vision of the futuristic novel as a literature of realism morality and fantasy His remarkably astute attempt to define the aesthetics of a major transformation in the relation between literature and time still stands as the basis for the poetics of futuristic fiction Tracing the early literary history of what became a major form of modern fiction Origins of Futuristic Fiction examines the key works of the earliest writers of the genre not for what they betray of past expectations but for what they reveal about the formal problems that needed to be resolved before tales of the future could achieve their full power in the works of later novelists

The Space of the Screen in Contemporary French and Francophone Fiction Donna Wilkerson-Barker, 2003 Addressing questions regarding the future of books in the electronic age and the notion of literacy within televisual culture The Space of the Screen in Contemporary French and Francophone Fiction appeals widely to readers interested in the transformations literature has undergone in visual culture Advancing the compelling argument that literary space functions as a space of critical reflection on and within image culture Donna Wilkerson Barker explores the centrality of media spectatorship in the novels of Genet Guibert and Bouraoui The result is a new understanding of the dynamic intersections between bookspace and cyberspace within the developing landscape of postmodern literacy
