network    Multisensory Integration in Action Control Jochen Musseler,Knut Drewing,2014-11-03 The integration of multisensory information is an essential mechanism in perception and in controlling actions Research in multisensory integration is concerned with how the information from the different sensory modalities such as the senses of vision hearing smell taste touch and proprioception are integrated to a coherent representation of objects Multisensory integration is central for action control For instance when you grasp for a rubber duck you can see its size and hear the sound it produces Moreover identical physical properties of an object can be provided by different senses You can both see and feel the size of the rubber duck Even when you grasp for the rubber duck with a tool e g with tongs the information from the hand from the effect points of the tool and from the eyes are integrated in a manner to act successfully Over the recent decade a surge of interest in multisensory integration and action control has been witnessed especially in connection with the idea that multiple sensory sources are integrated in an optimized way For this perspective to mature it will be helpful to delve deeper into the information processing mechanisms and their neural correlates asking about the range and constraints of this mechanisms about its localization and involved networks    Personal Computing ,1986    Popular Mechanics ,2000-06
