The Race Card Tara Fickle, 2019-11-19 Winner 2020 American Book Award given by the Before Columbus Foundation How games have been used to establish and combat Asian American racial stereotypes As Pok mon Go reshaped our neighborhood geographies and the human flows of our cities mapping the virtual onto lived realities so too has gaming and game theory played a role in our contemporary understanding of race and racial formation in the United States From the Chinese Exclusion Act and Japanese American internment to the model minority myth and the globalization of Asian labor Tara Fickle shows how games and game theory shaped fictions of race upon which the nation relies Drawing from a wide range of literary and critical texts analog and digital games journalistic accounts marketing campaigns and archival material Fickle illuminates the ways Asian Americans have had to fit the roles play the game and follow the rules to be seen as valuable in the US Exploring key moments in the formation of modern US race relations The Race Card charts a new course in gaming scholarship by reorienting our focus away from games as vehicles for empowerment that allow people to inhabit new identities and toward the ways that games are used as instruments of soft power to advance top down political agendas Bridging the intellectual divide between the embedded mechanics of video games and more theoretical approaches to gaming rhetoric Tara Fickle reveals how this intersection allows us to overlook the predominance of game tropes in national culture The Race Card reveals this relationship as one of deep ideological and historical intimacy how the games we play have seeped into every aspect of our lives in both monotonous and malevolent ways Man, Play, and Games Roger Caillois, 1961 Historiographies of Game Studies Alisha Karabinus, 2025-07-25 Historiographies of Game Studies offers a first of its kind reflection on how game studies as an academic field has been shaped and sustained Today game studies is a thriving field with many dedicated national and international conferences journals professional societies and a strong presence at conferences in disciplines like computer science communication media studies theater visual arts popular culture and others But when did game studies start And what and who is at the core or center of game studies Fields are defined as much by what they are not as by what they are and their borderlands can be hotly contested spaces In this anthology scholars from across the field consider how the boundaries of game studies have been established codified contested and protected raising critical questions about who and what gets left out of the field Over more than two dozen chapters and interviews with leading figures including Espen Aarseth Kishonna Gray Henry Jenkins Lisa Nakamura Kentaro Matsumoto Ken McAllister and Janet Murray the contributors offer a dazzling array of insightful provocations that address the formation propagation and cultivation of game studies interrogating not only the field's pasts but its potential futures and asking us to think deliberately about how academic fields are collectively built
