

The following is a narrative description of the business process of organisation of conferences with regards to the submitting, reviewing and accepting papers.

The author completes an online form that requests the user to input author name, correspondence address, email and, title of paper. The system validates this data and, if correct, asks the author to submit the paper. The author then browses to find the correct paper on their system and submits it. Once received and stored, the system returns to the author a reference number for the paper. Authors may submit as many papers as they like to be considered for acceptance to the conference up until the deadline date for submissions. Papers are allocated to referees for assessment. They review each paper and submit to the system their decision. Once the programme organizer has inputted the decisions authors are informed by email. Accepted papers are then schedule to be delivered at a conference. This involves allocating a date, time and place for the presentation of the paper.
