Polish Cinema in a Transnational Context Ewa Mazierska, Michael Goddard, 2014 The opening up of Poland economically and politically to global influences after the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 coupled with the rise of transnational approaches to the study of film presents ideal conditions for examining Polish cinema from a transnational vantage point Yet not only have studies of Polish cinema remained largely within a national framework but Polish cinema as well as many other Eastern European cinemas has been virtually excluded from new research in transnational cinema Polish cinema in a transnational context addresses this lacuna in film studies offering extended analysis of this national cinema's global influence Contributors assess the reception of Polish films in Europe and North America Polish international coproductions the presence of Polish performers in foreign films and the works of subversive migr auteurs like Andrzej u awski and Walerian Borowczyk The collection presents familiar films and filmmakers in a new and revealing light while also focusing on lesser known filmmakers and aspects of Polish cinema The resulting volume moves the discussion beyond the border of Polish national belonging

Reel Women Jane Sloan, 2007-03-26 In the last several decades the number of films featuring female protagonists has increased significantly Many of these films reflect the vast cultural and sociological changes that have taken place since the early 1960s highlighting not only a wide spectrum of female characters depicted onscreen but the creative work of women behind the camera as well In Reel Women An International Directory of Contemporary Feature Films about Women media librarian Jane Sloan has assembled an impressive list of more than 2400 films_ from nearly 100 countries_ that feature female protagonists Each entry includes a brief description of the film and cites key artistic personnel particularly female directors producers and screenwriters involved in its production Reel Women also contains a critical survey in which Sloan charts the changes women have undergone both on screen and off as moviemaking and audience sensibilities have evolved in the last forty plus years Listing many more films on the subject of women than can be found in any other source this reference brings together important titles from area studies and genre markets along with titles associated with women's cinema and feminist film. In addition to title and actor indexes the book contains a subject index that provides detailed access to place names, historical characters, time periods and storylines as well as the backgrounds, religious, racial and ethnic, of the main characters. This directory is an ideal reference tool for researchers studying the evolution of female characters in films around the world from Afghanistan to Zimbabwe. Encyclopedia of French Film Directors Philippe Rège, 2009-12-11. Cinema has been long associated with France dating back to 1895 when Louis and Auguste Lumière screened their works, the first public viewing of films anywhere. Early silent pioneers Georges Méliès, Alice Guy Blaché and others followed in the footsteps of the Lumière brothers and the tradition of important filmmaking continued throughout the 20th century and beyond. In Encyclopedia of French Film Directors Philippe Rège identifies every French director who has made at least one feature film since 1895. From undisputed masters to obscure one timers, nearly 3 000 directors are cited here including at least 200 filmmakers not mentioned in similar books published in France. Each director's entry contains a brief biographical summary including dates and places of birth and death, information on the individual's education and professional training and other pertinent details such as real names when the filmmaker uses a pseudonym. The entries also provide complete filmographies including credits for feature films, shorts, documentaries and television work. Some of the most important names in the history of film can be found in this encyclopedia from masters of the Golden Age, Jean Renoir and René Clair, to French New Wave artists such as François Truffaut and Jean-Luc Godard.

At their best, they have established cinema verité, mastered literary filmmaking and film noir, invented the New Wave and produced such unique and unclassified geniuses as Truffaut and Tati. From Les Enfants du paradis (Children of Paradise) which was made in the shadows of the occupation and opened as the Allies liberated Paris, to such modern films as Les Nuits fauves (Savage Nights), the first major cinematic treatment of AIDS, the 400 films here reflect the broad range of French filmmaking. Organized by French title with see references from English and alternate titles, each entry includes year of release, cast and production credits, running time and an essay, blending plot synopsis and critical commentary, all fully indexed.
