Rainbow Colors Srilata Ravi, 2007-01-01 The narratives under consideration in Rainbow Colors depict Mauritius's history of competing colonial forces describe its intricate social geography of free and forced migrations and portray the anxieties of mixed race persons and cultures in postcolonies Through a rigorous analysis of novels from Loys Masson's L'étoile et la clef 1945 to Ananda Devi's Moi interdite 2000 this study argues that there is no single grand narrative of cultural hybridity and ethnic pluralism in Mauritius By conceptualizing literature as the overlapping space of ethnic cultural realities national and transnational identities and a poetics of alterity Rainbow Colors explores how different literary ethnographies of Mauritius are produced at this intersection This original work considers Mauritian writing in French in its own right and not as a minor literature within the Francophone tradition Furthermore while significant monographs on ethnicity and nation have been published on the African and Caribbean novel in English and in French this is the first such single authored book length study on Mauritian novels to date

Politics of Memory Ana Lucia Araujo, 2013-05-07 The public memory of slavery and the Atlantic slave trade which some years ago could be observed especially in North America has slowly emerged into a transnational phenomenon now encompassing Europe Africa and Latin America and even Asia allowing the populations of African descent organized groups governments non governmental organizations and societies in these different regions to individually and collectively update and reconstruct the slave past This edited volume examines the recent transnational emergence of the public memory of slavery shedding light on the work of memory produced by groups of individuals who are descendants of slaves The chapters in this book explore how the memory of the enslaved and slavers is shaped and displayed in the public space not only in the former slave societies but also in the regions that provided captives to the former American colonies and European metropolises Through the analysis of exhibitions museums monuments accounts and public performances the volume makes sense of the political stakes involved in the phenomenon of memorialization of slavery and the slave trade in the public sphere

Kala Pani Crossings Ashutosh Bhardwaj, Judith Misrahi-Barak, 2021-12-23 When used in India the term Kala pani refers to the cellular jail in Port Blair where the British colonisers sent a select category of freedom fighters In the diaspora it refers to the transoceanic migration of indentured labour from India to plantation colonies across the globe from the mid 19th century onwards This volume discusses the legacies of indenture in the Caribbean Reunion Mauritius and Fiji and how they still imbue our present More importantly it draws attention to India and raises new questions doesn't one need at some stage to wonder why this forgotten chapter of Indian history needs to be retrieved How is it that this history is better known outside India than in India itself What are the advantages of shining a torch onto a history that was made invisible Why have the tribulations of the old diaspora been swept under the carpet at a time when the successes of the new diaspora have been foregrounded What do we stand to gain from resurrecting these histories in the early 21st century and from shifting our perspectives A key volume on Indian diaspora modern history indentured labour and the legacy of indentureship this co edited collection of essays examines these questions largely through the frame of important works of literature and cinema folk songs and oral tales making it an artistic enquiry of the past and of the present It will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of world history especially labour history literature postcolonial studies cultural studies diaspora studies sociology and social anthropology Indian Ocean studies and South Asian studies

Identity and Migration in Europe: Multidisciplinary Perspectives Maria Caterina La Barbera, 2014-11-24 This book addresses the impact of migration on the formation and transformation of identity and its continuous negotiations Its ground is the understanding of identity as a complex social phenomenon resulting from constant negotiations between personal conditions social relationships and institutional frameworks Migrations understood as dynamic processes that do not end when landing in the host country offer the best conditions to analyze the construction and transformation of social identities in the postcolonial and globalized societies Searching for novel epistemologies and methodologies the research questions here addressed are how identity is negotiated in migration processes and how these negotiations work in contemporary multiethnic Europe This edited volume brings to the field a novel convergence of theoretical and empirical approaches by gathering together scholars from different countries of Europe and the Mediterranean area from different disciplines and backgrounds challenging the traditional discipline division
