in order to get the most out of the process Dispute Processes Michael Palmer, Simon Roberts, 2020-07-09 This new edition considers a wide range of materials dealing with dispute processes and current debates on civil justice

Foundations of Dispute Resolution Carrie Menkel-Meadow, 2017-05-15 This volume brings together leading research articles in to the theory research findings and applications of modern dispute resolution The articles relate to a wide variety of settings and cover the primary processes of negotiation mediation and arbitration as well as exploring combinations and hybridization of those processes Also included are articles on the search for value added or pie expanding creative solutions the choosing of strategies based on game theory economics and social and cognitive psychology how foundational theories have been altered or modified depending on contexts and numbers of parties and issues and what issues are raised by the privatization of justice The articles span both the science and art of dispute resolution consider the relationship of peace to justice and include both empirical descriptive and normative prescriptive assessments of how these processes of dispute resolution function FAMILY LAW NON-MUSLIM IN MALAYSIA: SECOND EDITION (IIUM PRESS) Norliah

Ibrahim, Najibah Mohd Zin, Nora Abdul Hak, Roslina Che Soh, Noraini Md. Hashim, Azizah Mohd, Normi Abd. Malek, Mohd Hisham Mohd Kamal, 2024-01-04 The second edition of Family Law Non Muslims in Malaysia is generally an improved version from the first edition which was published ten years ago and heavily referred to by law students as a textbook It discusses the substantive family laws related to the non Muslims in Malaysia which are based on the Law Reform Marriage and Divorce Act 1976 an several other supplementary statutes Besides updating the previous chapters on family law matters the book updates the global concern on the appropriate law when dealing with family related disputes in the 21st century The new topics on reconciliation and mediation are incorporated to emphasise the need for therapeutic intervention when dealing with personal relationships and encourage kindness even in the most difficult of circumstances which can have significant longer term consequences and lead to higher levels of considerate behaviour The philosophy of family love and kindness must be well embraced by family law lawyers judges and administrators of family law in the adjudication process The book is jointly authored by family law lecturers at the Ahmad Ibrahim Kulliyah of Laws International Islamic University Malaysia It will benefit not only students academics and practitioners but also those in the legal fraternity and those who have interest in non Muslims family law in Malaysia Finally this book could not have been published without a great deal of help and encouragement from many sources Comparative Dispute Resolution Maria F. Moscati, Michael

Palmer, Marian Roberts, 2020-12-25 Comparative Dispute Resolution offers an original wide ranging and invaluable corpus of chapters on dispute resolution Enriched by a broad comparative vision and a focus on the processes used to handle disputes this study adds significantly to the discourse around comparative legal studies Chapters present new understandings of theoretical comparative and transnational dimensions of the manner in which societies and their legal systems respond to difficulties in social relations European Traditions in Civil Procedure C. H. van Rhee, 2005 European co operation has resulted in many new and challenging opportunities for legal scholars who since the so called codification period have become used to operating in a purely national context This applies also to scholars in the field of civil procedure who for a considerable period of time have resisted leaving the purely national domain These scholars have devoted a great deal of attention to the question whether or not harmonisation of civil procedural law is a feasible option and if so in what manner harmonisation should be achieved The contributors to this book seek to further the harmonisation debate by exploring some of the main trends in the development of civil procedural law during the last two centuries in several European countries Germany Austria Switzerland France England and Wales The Netherlands and Belgium Two of the central issues that are addressed by the contributors are the extent to which the various procedural models have influenced each other and the extent to which common traditions in civil procedural law may be distinguished in Europe Each general chapter in this book is supplemented by three chapters devoted to specific procedural topics Conciliation Party Interrogation as Evidence and the Role of the Judge In addition extensive bibliographical references are included

Family Mediation Howard H. Irving, Michael Benjamin, 1995-07-19 As divorce rates rise family mediation represents an alternative way of making settlements without involving an already overburdened judicial system This book presents a discussion of the current North American trends in the burgeoning field of family mediation by featuring both a review of the literature and a model for family mediation practice The practice model presented here Therapeutic Family Mediation stresses an ecological perspective and considers the feminist critique of the mediation process The authors also address mediation's role in the important issues of joint custody ethnicity and child protection Future directions in family mediation are examined in the final part Conciliation in Separation and Divorce Lisa Parkinson, 2023-07-05. Originally published in 1986, reissued here with a new preface. This study of the origins and early development of family conciliation services in Britain outlines their philosophy, methods of work and reported results, illustrated with case examples. The examples demonstrate that disputes between separating and divorcing couples involve complex personal and family problems as well as legal ones, and that the practice of conciliation needed to be set in the context of current changes in family law and court procedures. At the time, many solicitors and courts were adopting a settlement-seeking approach in matrimonial cases rather than a sharply adversarial one, and the complementary roles of solicitors and conciliators gave rise to dilemmas in practice as well as offering potential advantages. This book draws a parallel between the work of ACAS in industrial disputes and the similar approach of family conciliation services but points out that there are also major differences. It also shows how the experience of conciliation practice gained in other countries throws some useful light on the questions being raised in Britain. Research findings from Australia, Canada and the United States are used in discussing the future of conciliation in the short and longer term and in looking at the possible development of alternative methods of resolving disputes.
