Locating The English Diaspora 1500 2010 Liverpool University Press Migrations And Identities:

Locating the English Diaspora, 1500-2010 Tanja Bueltmann, David T. Gleeson, Donald M. MacRaild, 2012-01-01 This collection of essays is the first serious attempt to conceptualise the transplantation of English migrants and culture in the New World as a diaspora

Portrait of an English Migration William E. Van Vugt, 2021-03-15 Portrait of an English Migration recounts the history of those who left North Yorkshire for North America between the eighteenth century and the early twentieth century Focusing on individual stories of migrants and their families this book provides many personal glimpses of the migration experience of those who left England's largest county to build new lives in the United States and Canada Exploring the local history geography and cultures of Yorkshire and the key places of settlement in North America William Van Vugt deepens our understanding of the historic migration process how local conditions and access to information influenced migration decisions the role of local networks in migration patterns and the significance of family connections religious identities and land ownership to the migrants themselves He considers the extent to which English migrants shaped regional culture and contributed to economic development addressing ongoing questions about identity and what it meant to be English in North America Full of first person accounts and stories from migrants themselves Portrait of an English Migration is both a sweeping history of two centuries of migration and an intimate look at the lives of generations of Yorkshire people who crossed the ocean to make a new home

Migrants of the British diaspora since the 1960s A. James Hammerton, 2017-07-21 This is the first social history to explore experiences of British emigrants from the peak years of the 1960s to the emigration resurgence of the turn of the twentieth century It explores migrant experiences in Australia Canada and New Zealand alongside other countries The book charts the gradual reinvention of the British diaspora from a postwar migration of austerity to a modern migration of prosperity It offers a different way of writing migration history based on life histories but exploring mentalities as well as experiences against a setting of deep social and economic change Key moments are the 1970s loss of Britons privilege in Commonwealth destination countries Thatcher's refugees in the 1980s and shifting attitudes to cosmopolitanism and global citizenship by the 1990s It charts a long process of change from the 1960s to patterns of discretionary and nomadic migration which became more common practice from the end of the twentieth century

Fictions of Migration in Contemporary Britain and Ireland Carmen Zamorano Llana, 2020-04-30 This book examines how the transcultural and transnational migration of people texts and ideas has transformed the paradigm of national literature with Britain and Ireland as case studies The study questions definitions of migration and migrant literature that focus solely on the work of authors with migrant backgrounds and suggests that migration is not extraneous but intrinsic to contemporary understandings of national literature in a global context The fictional work of authors such as Caryl Phillips Colum McCann Abdulrazak Gurnah Rose Tremain Elif Shafak and Evelyn Conlon is analysed from a variety of perspectives including transculturality cosmopolitanism and Afropolitanism so as to emphasise how their work fosters an understanding of national literature as well as of individual and collective identities based on transborder interconnectivity Leaving the North Johanne Devlin Trew, 2016 The first book to survey the history of Northern Ireland migration from partition in 1921 to the present including the personal stories of individuals who emigrated to many destinations abroad some of whom later returned Family Memory Radmila Švaříčková Slabáková, 2021-12-30 In Family Memory Practices Transmissions and Uses in a Global Perspective researchers from five different continents explore the significance of family memory as an analytical tool and a research concept Family memory is the most important memory community This volume illustrates the range and power of family memories often neglected by memory studies dealing with larger mnemonic entities This book highlights the potential of family memory research for understanding societies past and present and the need for a more comprehensive and systematic use of family memories The contributors explain how family memories can be a valuable resource across a range of settings pertaining to individual and collective identities national memories intergenerational transmission processes and migration transnational and diasporic studies This volume presents the past present and future of family memory as a prospective field of memory studies and the role of family memory in intergenerational transmission of social and political values Family memory of violent events and genocide is also looked at with discussions of the Armenian Genocide Russian Revolution and Rwandan Genocide This book will be an important read for cultural and oral historians family historians public historians researchers in narrative studies psychology politics and international studies Empire, migration and identity in the British World Kent Fedorowich, Andrew S. Thompson, 2015-11-01 The essays in this volume have been written by leading experts in their respective fields and bring together established scholars with a new generation of migration and transnational historians Their work weaves together the new imperial and the new migration histories and is essential reading for scholars and students interested in the interplay of migration within and between the local regional imperial and transnational arenas Furthermore these essays set an important analytical benchmark for more integrated and comparative analyses of the range of migratory processes free and coerced which together impacted on the dynamics of power forms of cultural circulation and making of ethnicities across a British imperial world The English diaspora in North America Tanja Bueltmann, Donald MacRaild, 2016-12-05 Ethnic associations were once vibrant features of societies such as the United States and Canada which attracted large numbers of immigrants While the transplanted cultural lives of the Irish Scots and continental Europeans have received much attention the English are far less widely explored It is assumed the English were not an ethnic community that they lacked the alienating experiences associated with immigration and thus possessed few elements of diasporas This deeply researched new book questions this assumption It shows that English associations once were widespread taking hold in colonial America spreading to Canada and then encompassing all of the empire Celebrating saints days expressing pride in the monarch and national heroes providing charity to the national poor and forging mutual aid societies mutual were all features of English life overseas In fact the English simply resembled other immigrant groups too much to be dismissed as the unproblematic invisible immigrants

British and Irish diasporas Donald MacRaild, Tanja Bueltmann, J. C. D. Clark, 2019-01-07 People from the British and Irish Isles have for centuries migrated to all corners of the globe Wherever they went the English Irish Scots Welsh and even sub national supra regional groups like the Cornish co mingled blended and blurred Yet while they gradually integrated into new lives in far flung places British and Irish Isle emigrants often maintained elements of their distinctive national cultures which is an important foundation of diasporas Within this wider context this volume seeks to explore the nature and characteristics of the British and Irish diasporas stressing their varying origins and evolution the developing attachments to them and the differences in each nation s recognition of their own diaspora The volume thus offers the first integrated study of the formation of diasporas from the islands of Ireland and Britain with a particular view to scrutinizing the similarities differences tensions and possibilities of this approach

Clubbing Together Tanja Bueltmann, 2014-09-24 Clubbing Together offers the first global study of Scottish ethnic associationalism exploring transnationally the evolution and role of Scottish clubs and societies

Scottish Diaspora Tanja Bueltmann, 2013-11-20 A history of the Scottish diaspora from c 1700 to 1945 Did you know that Scotland was one of Europe s main population exporters in the age of mass migration Or that the Scottish Honours System was introduced as far afield as New Zealand This comprehensive introductory history of the Scottish diaspora examines these and related issues exploring the migration of Scots overseas their experiences in the new worlds in which they settled and the impact of the diaspora on Scotland Global in scope the book s distinctive feature is its focus on both the geographies of the Scottish diaspora and

Migration and Migrant Identities in the Near East from Antiquity to the Middle Ages Justin Yoo, Andrea Zerbin, Caroline Barron, 2018-10-29 This book brings together recent developments in modern migration theory a wide range of sources new and old tools revisited from GIS to epigraphic studies from stable isotope analysis to the study of literary sources and case studies from the ancient eastern Mediterranean that illustrate how new theories and techniques are helping to give a better understanding of migratory flows and diaspora communities in the ancient Near East A geographical gap has emerged in studies of historical migration as recent works have focused on migration and mobility in the western part of the Roman Empire and thus fail to bring a significant contribution to the study of diaspora communities in the eastern Mediterranean Bridging this gap represents a major scholarly desideratum and by drawing upon the experiences of previously neglected migrant and diaspora communities in the eastern Mediterranean from the Hellenistic period to the early mediaeval world this collection of essays approaches migration studies with new perspectives and methodologies shedding light not only on the study of migrants in the ancient world but also on broader issues concerning the rationale for mobility and the creation and features of diaspora identities Diaspora, Identity and Religion Carolin Alfonso, Waltraud Kokot, Khachig Tölölyan, 2004-07-31 Examines the development of the concept of diaspora and new perspectives on global networks and local identities Features case histories on the Caribbean Irish Irish American Armenian African and Greek diasporas The Impact of Diasporas Joanna Story, Iain Walker, 2018-10-11 Markers of identity define human groups who belongs and who is excluded These markers are often overt language material culture patterns of behaviour and are carefully nurtured between generations other times they can be invisible intangible or unconscious Such markers of identity also travel and can be curated distilled or reworked in new lands and in new cultural environments It has always been thus markers of identity are often central to the ties that bind dispersed diasporic communities across lands and through time This book brings together research that discusses a very wide range of scholarly approaches periods and places from the Viking diaspora in the north Atlantic and Anglo Saxon treasure hoards to what DNA can and cannot reveal about human identity to modern multicultural Martinique East London and urban Africa and the effect of the absence of geopolitical identity of statelessness among the Roma and Palestinians to better understand how markers of identity contribute to the impact of diasporas This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies Becoming Home: Diaspora and the Anglophone Transnational Jude Nixon, Mariaconcetta Costantini, 2022-09-06 Becoming Home Diaspora and the Anglophone Transnational is a collection of essays exploring national identity migration exile colonialism postcolonialism slavery race and gender in the literature of the Anglophone world The volume focuses on the dispersion or scattering of people in exile and how those with an existing homeland and those displaced without a politically recognized sovereign state negotiate displacement and the experience of living at home abroad This group includes expatriate minority communities existing uneasily and nostalgically on the margins of their host country The diaspora becomes an important cultural phenomenon in the formation of national identities and opposing attempts to transcend the idea of nationhood itself on its way to developing new forms of transnationalism Chapters on the literature or national allegories of the diaspora and the transnational explore the diverse and geographically expansive ways in which Anglophone literature by colonized subjects and emigrants negotiates diasporic spaces to create imagined communities or a sense of home Themes explored within these pages include restlessness tensions trauma ambiguities assimilation estrangement myth nostalgia sentimentality homesickness national schizophrenia divided loyalties intellectual capital and geographical interstices Special attention is paid to the complex ways identity is negotiated by immigrants to Anglophone countries writing in English about their home abroad experience The lived experiences of emigrants of the diaspora create a literature rife with tensions concerning identity language and belongingness in the struggle for home Focusing on writers in particular geopolitical spaces the essays in the collection offer an active conversation with leading theorizers of the diaspora and the transnational including Edward Said Bill Ashcroft William Safran Gabriel Sheffer Stuart Hall Homi Bhabha Frantz Fanon and Benedict Anderson This volume cuts across the broad geopolitical space of the Anglophone world of literature and cultural studies and will appeal to professors scholars graduate and undergraduate students in English comparative literature history ethnic and race studies diaspora studies migration and transnational studies The volume will also be an indispensable aid to public policy experts
