Reading Problems Joyce Holt

Jennings, JoAnne Schudt Caldwell, Janet W. Lerner, 2006 Would the world be a better place if human societies were somehow able to curb their desires for material goods Saleem Ali's pioneering book links human wants and needs by providing a natural history of consumption and materialism with scientific detail and humanistic nuance It argues that simply disavowing consumption of materials is not likely to help in planning for a resource scarce future given global inequality development imperatives and our goals for a democratic global society Rather than suppress the creativity and desire to discover that is often embedded in the exploration and production of material goods which he calls the treasure impulse Ali proposes a new environmental paradigm one that accepts our need to consume treasure for cultural and developmental reasons but warns of our concomitant need to conserve In evaluating the impact of treasure consumption on resource rich countries he argues that there is a way to consume responsibly and alleviate global poverty

Assessment in Special Education Roger Pierangelo, George A. Giuliani, 2006. This text presents a uniquely practical approach to the topic of Assessment in Special Education. The authors organize the material into a real world story by having each part and chapter of the book reflect the linear chronology of the assessment process used in schools. Unlike other books, this book is organized chronologically to present the overall process in a straight line, a practical and useful pedagogy in itself for the novice teacher. The text provides the practical tools necessary for a new teacher to understand the process of assessment in schools and then learn how to put it all together. It provides future special educators comprehensive coverage of the latest tests and evaluation procedures for all areas of exceptionality for every age group for students with mild, moderate and severe disabilities.
