

MKTG 211 Midterm 1 Study Guide

- Customer Behavior- The totality of consumers' decisions with respect to the acquisition, consumption, and disposition, (how customers get rid of an offering), of goods, services, time, and ideas by decision-making units over time.
- Levin's Interactionist Model:
 - Behavior = $f(\text{Person} \times \text{Situation})$
 - Person = Individual characteristics, Situation = Environment, (price, social cues, purchase occasion).
 - Input-Output Model- The way that marketers see interaction unfolding.
 - This establishes that there is a potential market for products.
- There is variation in personal preferences for products, but buying intentions are also influenced by the context.
- Purchasing products involves stages of initial awareness, information gathering, formation of a consideration set, and a choice.
 - Decisions taken at one stage critically drive the decisions made in the next.
 - Implication: The "perfect" products can never be purchased because they aren't considered.
 - i.e. Online product for people who only shop in stores.
- Purchase Funnel
 - Awareness Familiarity
 - Consideration Purchase
 - Loyalty.
- Loyalty Loop
 - Consideration is influenced by memory categorization, attitudes, and persuasion.
 - Trigger is influenced by motivation, exposure, attention, and perception.
 - Evaluation is influenced by learning, information surge, judgement, and decision-making.
 - Post-Purchase is influenced by satisfaction, word-of-mouth, and social influence.
- We conduct consumer research to gather data that provides basic insights into how consumer think, feel, and decide.
- Types of Research:
 - Quantitative Research
 - Secondary Data- Already available data/information, (infers conclusions, preferences, and buying patterns).
 - We cannot infer causation from secondary data. We have an incomplete picture of what's going on.
 - i.e. sales, clickstreams
 - Primary Data- Newly collected data (surveys, observation, experiments) to directly measure consumer preferences.

increase profitability save costs and improve the company's market position. An integral part of the company's marketing management system is to ensure proportionality of development support and preservation of social guarantees for employees. However, after the Russian Federation started military operations on the territory of Ukraine, agricultural enterprises experienced major problems in production, sales and procurement of inputs. The big problems caused by the war are clearly visible in logistics processes, losses in trade relations by sea, suspended river traffic, heavy load on border crossing points on railways and highways, lack of air traffic. Due to the constant bombardment by the Russian aggressor, a large number of critical infrastructure facilities have been damaged, forcing our companies to significantly increase the cost of processing agricultural products and thus stay afloat without stopping their operations. A large number of companies from the east and south were forced to move to the western and central parts of the country to resume their operations. However, given that in Ukraine marketing management of agricultural enterprises is a separate, very large and problematic aspect, the theoretical and methodological framework is not sufficiently covered, there are problematic issues and the strategy for the transition of enterprises from outdated forms and methods of management and business to new scientifically based market methods such as marketing management has not been developed. This will allow our enterprises to develop and meet the needs of consumers and at the same time ensure the country's food security in this difficult military period for Ukraine. The results of the research presented in this monograph are determined within the framework of the initiative topic of the Department of Marketing and International Trade of the National University of Life and Environmental Sciences of Ukraine.
