Humanism in Surgery Jonathan McFarland, Susana Magalhaes, Jacek Mostwin, René Genadry, 2025-08-12 Medical Humanities and Narrative Medicine have been increasingly relevant in view of the challenges that new health technologies and the digital world pose to truly person centered healthcare By Narrative Medicine we understand the practice of healthcare with narrative skills that allow professionals to recognize the suffering of others and of themselves be able to interpret verbal and non verbal narratives of illness and be motivated to act in a way that respects the Person of the Patient and of the Professional Surgery like other medical specialties requires space for reflection and debate on the meaning of humanism and its impact on the quality of care This requirement is more pressing in this area because it has escaped inquiry by Medical Humanities and Narrative Medicine We believe that this is due to the nature of the surgical activity carried out in an enclosed place characterized by the use of sophisticated technologies including robotics and artificial intelligence and inaccessible to patients relatives In addition the patients own expectations about surgery reinforce the technological and highly specialized nature of this area often marked by the neglect of the relational context with clear prejudice to the parties involved and the activity itself Although this gap has been identified there has been no space for reflection on the humanization of care in surgery This book is therefore innovative precisely because it responds to the previously mentioned shortcomings offering its readers the opportunity to reflect on Humanism in Surgery      Fundamentals of Management Donald S. Miller, Stephen E. Catt, James R. Carlson, 1996 The full color text contains Chapters 1 13 which cover the core concepts in the principles of management course It is available in hardcover paperback or looseleaf versions Supplemental Chapters 14 20 offer complete coverage of topics from which the instructor may choose according to course needs These chapters are available on Westtext B W and are fully supported by all the ancillaries Communication is integrated throughout the text Many pedagogical devices such as The Real World and Consider This help students understand management concepts      Rehabilitation of the Patient with Respiratory Disease Neil S. Cherniack, Murray D. Altose, Ikuo Homma, 1999 The first comprehensive and authoritative reference on pulmonary rehabilitation written specifically for physicians An introductory section covers basic science aspects and provides the foundation for the understanding of the basis of respiratory impairment and disability Specific pathophysiological mechanisms of respiratory impairments are covered in chapters dealing with the full spectrum of respiratory diseases or disease categories Subsequent chapters cover approaches to assessment of respiratory function and performance measurement of impairment and disability determination and evaluation of dyspnea A comprehensive review of rehabilitation management and treatment regimens follows covering pharmacological approaches improvement of muscle function exercise training and nutritional supplementation Final chapters focus on psychosocial factors as well as relevant medical economic and bioethical issues      Social Sciences Index, 1993      Medical Journal of Australia, 1929
