Konstantin Melnikov And His House:

The Melnikov House Pavel Kuznetsov, 2017-06 The Melnikov House a building designed by architect Konstantin Melnikov in Moscow for his family 1927 1929 is an icon of the architectural avant garde The house was originally built as an experimental cylindrical house to test out Konstantin Melnikov's very own concept of mass construction of residential estates This book covers the house in its current condition during its transformation from a family home to the State Melnikovs Museum Konstantin Melnikov and His House Fritz Barth, 2015 Konstantin Melnikov 1890 1974 is unquestionably one of the outstanding architects of the 20th century in spite of the fact that he fell silent early leaving behind only limited work that was insufficiently publicized and restricted almost exclusively to Moscow the city of his birth in which he spent nearly his entire life and which did not appreciate him He was raised in humble circumstances but enjoyed an excellent education 0 In the late 1920s at the peak of his career he had the opportunity to build a house for himself and his family in Moscow in which he was then able to live until the end of his life This house a memorable symbiosis of almost peasant like simplicity and extreme radicalness is one of the most impressive surprising and probably most enigmatic works produced by 20th century architecture Its simplicity is only outward in reality this is a highly complex work which links together the elements of architecture explicitly and inextricably which takes a clear and completely autonomous stand and which in a way that little else has done raises the question as to the nature of genuinely architectonic thinking In essayistic form the book attempts to follow the paths laid out in the architect's work from the perspective of an architect The Melnikov House, Moscow (1927 - 1929) Juhani Pallasmaa, Andrei Gozak, 1996-09-12 Detailed documentation of this unique house renowned for its interlocking circle design The Melnikov House, An icon of modern architecture the Melnikov House designed by world famous architect Konstantin Melnikov 1890 1974 tells the incredible story of how this utopian design from the late 1920s in Moscow imprisoned the fate of the architect when Joseph Stalin prohibited modern architecture from the Soviet Union Hear the story of how Melnikov was denied his right to work as an architect and was in practice placed under house arrest in his own home Key Houses of the Twentieth Century Colin Davies, 2006 Featuring over 100 of the most significant and influential houses of the twentieth century For each of the houses included there are numerous accurate scale plans showing each floor together with elevations sections and site plans where appropriate All of these have been specially drawn for this book and are based on the most up to date information and sources The Melnikov House Pavel Kuznetsov, 2017 Das Melnikov Haus von Konstantin Melnikov in Moskau f r seine Familie entworfen 1927 1929 ist eine Ikone der architektonischen Avantgarde Das Haus wurde urspr nglich als experimenteller zylindrischer Bau errichtet um Melnikovs Konzept f r Massenkonstruktion von Wohnsiedlungen zu testen Dieses Buch pr sentiert das Haus in seiner gegenw rtigen Situation w hrend der Transformation vom Familienhaus zum State Melnikovs Museum The Melnikov House Andrei Gozak, 1996 Behind Architectural Filters Miguel Guitart, 2022-03-24 Behind Architectural Filters Phenomena of Interference explores the active role of architectural filters in generating physically and sensory charged spatial experiences. The book addresses how the material and the psychological strategies of permeable physical boundaries determine our perceptual experiences of the spaces we occupy. This book explores architectural filters as connecting mechanisms capable of conjuring unique atmospheres that integrate the participation of several agents. The text analyzes ten case studies grouped under five generative parameters: origin, density, thickness, function, and message. Each study investigates the main aspects of the filters' internal genesis and the character of the spaces informed by them. The cases illustrate a broad geographic, cultural, and historical scope and connect past tradition with contemporary design. This methodology considers a historical and philosophical standpoint addressing vernacular, constructive, sustainable, and sensory considerations. Written for students and scholars of architectural history, theory, art, design, and philosophy, Behind Architectural Filters: Phenomena of Interference offers an unprecedented perspective on the production of spatial atmospheres, bridging past and present while connecting thought and practice in a highly visual study. Chapter 3 of this book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com. What Am I Doing Here Bruce Chatwin, 1990-08-01. In this text, Bruce Chatwin writes of his father, of his friend Howard Hodgkin, and of his talks with Andre Malraux and Nadezhda Mandelstam. He also follows unholy grails on his travels, such as the rumour of a wolf boy in India or the idea of looking for a Yeti.

The Embodied Image Juhani Pallasmaa, 2011-05-16. The Embodied Image: The Embodied Image, Imagination and Imagery in Architecture. Juhani Pallasmaa. All artistic and architectural effects are evoked, mediated, and experienced through poeticised images. These images are embodied and lived experiences that take place in the flesh of the world, becoming part of us at the same time that we unconsciously project aspects of ourselves on to a conceived space, object, or event. Artistic images have a life and reality of their own and they develop through unexpected associations rather than rational and causal logic. Images are usually thought of as retinal pictures, but profound poetic images are multi-sensory and they address us in an embodied and emotive manner. Architecture is usually analysed and taught as a discipline that articulates space and geometry, but the mental impact of architecture arises significantly from its image quality that integrates the various aspects and dimensions of experience into a singular, internalised, and remembered entity. The material reality is fused with our mental and imaginative realm. The book is organised into five main parts that look at, in turn, the image in contemporary culture, language, thought, and the image: the many faces of the image, the poetic image, and finally, the architectural image. The Embodied Image is illustrated with over sixty images in pairs, which are diverse in subject. They range from scientific images to historic, artistic, and architectural masterpieces. Artworks span Michelangelo and Vermeer to Gordon Matta-Clark, and architecture takes in Modern Masters such as Mies van der Rohe, Le Corbusier, and Alvar
