Kenya Yearbook 2013/14, 2013 East African Running Yannis Pitsiladis, John Bale, Craig Sharp, Tim Noakes, 2007-01-24

What makes East African middle and long distance runners the best in the world How should contemporary academia approach this question The success of East African distance runners has generated a plethora of studies but much of the evidence presented to support hypotheses is anecdotal arguments being led by non academics who use popular media as their medium rather than relying on scientific publications This has resulted in many stereotypical arguments being advocated Within the academic community research has also been restricted by its isolation within either the natural science or social science communities East African Running Towards a Cross Disciplinary Perspective presents a rare collaboration between researchers from the sports sciences and social sciences to explore the questions raised by the phenomena of East African success on the track The text includes psycho social and economic explanations physiological and genetic explanations attempts to provide unified theories bringing together ideas from natural and social sciences Includes contributions from John Bale Jim Denison Timothy D Noakes and Craig Sharp Index Veterinarius, 2006 Kenya, an Official Handbook, 1989 Geophagia Anil Gupta, 2019-10-08 Ingestion of food is a physiological process among heterotrophic organisms to obtain nutrients for survival The consumption of soil clay and chalk by humans is labeled as geophagia Ancient resources and modern references deliver valuable information concerning geophagia and pica in humans This book takes a consistent interdisciplinary approach for reviewing this aberrant behavior crafting its etiology charting its health effects and identifying the universal traits among the affected population It puts forward a brief conceptual framework to achieve universality in its definition history epidemiology and multiple hypotheses thus help in adopting measures to control this habit Key Features 1 Systematic and meticulous flow of information on geophagia 2 Guides general practioners physicians pediatricians to curb this practice in their patients 3 A unique and concise treatise covering descriptive and research based work over a crucial health issue of worldwide prevalence Women's Health in Africa Chimaraoke O. Izugbara, Eleanor Krassen Covan, Elizabeth Fugate-Whitlock, 2017-10-02 This edited book includes new policy relevant research on women s health issues in Africa Scholars explore critical topics from different disciplinary traditions using a variety of research methodologies and data sources The contributors include African scholars with in depth knowledge of their home contexts who can furnish nuanced interpretations of local health issues and trends international researchers who bring vigorous comparative viewpoints emerging scholars adding to scientific knowledge and more established researchers with a deep global knowledge of women s health issues The range of women s health issues is vast including the HIV epidemic and its impacts domestic violence the persistence of homebirths and abortion In addition the book investigates emerging health concerns such as CVDs and cancers Readers will learn that while old health issues have persisted and assumed new dimensions newer concerns have materialized and are gaining momentum The inability of health systems to tackle these issues complicates matters in Africa creating a sense of desperation that can only be successfully confronted through strong political will and strategic planning grounded in further research This book was originally published as several special issues of Health Care for Women International Central African Journal of Medicine ,1992
