Memorandum Life Science Practical Term One 16 February 2015:

Shared Governance for Sustainable Working Landscapes Timothy M. Gieseke, 2016-08-05 Sustaining our agricultural landscapes is no longer just a technical scientific or even political problem but it has evolved into a socially complex so called wicked problem of conflicting social governance and economics This creates an extreme economic obstacle where the value of ecosystem services remains low and diffuse and the transactions costs remain high and multiple Using Uber like business platform technology and a shared governance model a symbiotic demand for environmental benefits is created Enabling multi sector transactions for environmental benefits this platform innovation would remedy the tragedy of the commons the economic nemesis to achieving landscape sustainability In a nutshell to sustain our agricultural landscapes a transdisciplinary approach supported by a shared governance model housed within a multi sided platform is needed This book introduces an assessment framework identifying governance actors styles and ratios for socio ecological systems The assessment uses a new governance compass to identify the types of actors completing which tasks and identifies the styles of governance used to complete the tasks It is aimed to anyone involved in sustainability science agricultural policy planning or integrated landscape design Subject Index to Unclassified ASTIA Documents Defense Documentation Center

(U.S.), 1960 The 1970 UNESCO and 1995 UNIDROIT Conventions on Stolen or Illegally Transferred Cultural Property, 2024-02-06 The illicit traffic in cultural objects is a grave concern to the general public and international community The resulting cultural damage fuels debates on how best to regulate the trade in cultural objects and inform legal responses at all levels for the protection of movable cultural heritage Treaties concerning the treatment of cultural objects during peacetime and war represent some of the earliest multilateral initiatives on cultural heritage in the modern era They also remain some of the most deeply contested representing shifting fault lines within the international community Authored by leading scholars and practitioners from around the world this Commentary is the first to cover the two leading multilateral treaties on movable cultural heritage in one volume the Convention on the Means of Prohibiting and Preventing the Illicit Import Export and Transfer of Ownership of Cultural Property adopted by UNESCO in 1970 and the Convention on Stolen or Illegally Exported Cultural Objects adopted by UNIDROIT in 1995 This Commentary is designed to be the authoritative text for academics lawyers policymakers and diplomats on the protection and regulation of cultural objects Encompassing both public and private international law rules on the trade in cultural objects it provides a detailed historical and thematic overview Drawing on the travaux preparatoires and intergovernmental and state practice over the last half century the Commentary provides an article by article analysis of the interpretation and application of these treaties The texts 1970 UNESCO and 1995 UNIDROIT Conventions are examined in the working context of other culture conventions including the World Heritage Convention and the Intangible Heritage Convention as well as related fields of international law such as international humanitarian law international criminal law human rights law and international economic law The volume also
