Memorandu Geography Papernovember 2013:

The Changing Practices of International Law Tanja Aalberts, Thomas Gammeltoft-Hansen, 2018-04-05 With more than 158 000 treaties and some 125 judicial organisations international law has become an inescapable factor in world politics since the Second World War In recent years however international law has also been increasingly challenged as states are voicing concerns that it is producing unintended effects and accuse international courts of judicial activism This book provides an important corrective to existing theories of international law by focusing on how states respond to increased legalisation and rely on legal expertise to manoeuvre within and against international law Through a number of case studies covering a wide range of topical issues such as surveillance environmental regulation migration and foreign investments the book argues that the expansion and increased institutionalisation of international law itself have created the structural premise for this type of politics of international law More international law paradoxically increases states political room of manoeuvre in world society

Self-determinable Development of Small Islands Masahide Ishihara, Eiichi Hoshino, Yoko Fujita, 2016-06-14 This book aims to clarify the present situation of the relations between small island countries and territories on the one hand and the great powers mainland areas and mega islands on the other and explores how small island countries and territories preserve and build their identity under globalization This book is divided into five parts The first part presents papers on issues that are related to Okinawa the American military presence the formation of a global human network and the history of and language revitalization in Okinawa The second part includes papers on security in East Asia and the Pacific Region the history of and present issues in international relations within the South and East China Sea areas The third part presents papers on economic issues and social developments on small islands The fourth part deals with ocean policies and marine resource management in the Pacific Region by the United States Australia and Japan Finally the fifth part presents papers on the revitalization of three indigenous languages All the chapters of the book are based on the achievements of the research project Towards New Island Studies The Ryukyus as an academic node between East Asia and Oceania conducted by the International Institute for Okinawan Studies at the University of the Ryukyus This 5 year project was funded by the Japanese Ministry of Education Culture Sports Science and Technology and aimed to contribute academically to the creation of sustainable and self determinable societies in small island regions This work will be extremely useful and informative for readers in small island countries and territories and for researchers who are interested in small island issues to understand the current situation and who wish to consider effectual and feasible solutions

The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications,2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change
