Micra Sample Question Papers:

Towards the rational use of high salinity tolerant plants Helmut Lieth,A.A. Al Masoom,2012-12-06 The Symposium on high salinity tolerant plants held at the University of Al Ain in December 1990 dealt primarily with plants tolerating salinity levels exceeding that of ocean water and which at the same time are promising for utilization in agriculture or forestry These plants could be very useful for a country like the UAE where fresh water resources are very scarce and the groundwater available at some places is already very salty More than 60 million woody trees shrubs have been planted so far and more are planned for the inland plains underlain with brackish groundwater These species were no solution for the widely barren shoreline of the UAE Here mangrove species were of potential use and one species Avicennia Marina occurs widely and has been successfully planted for about a decade Converting the tree plantations into economically useful cropping systems is still a problem requiring much research and development The book deals in several sections with conventional irrigation systems using marginal water The species used in these systems are mostly hybrids of conventional crops The irrigation systems however have similar problems as may be expected for irrigation with seawater Papers show the participants experiments in this area The volume serves as a link between scientists working for the improvement of classical irrigation systems and those interested in the application of a new dimension of salinity levels for irrigation water

Contributions to the ecology of halophytes David N. Sen,K.S. Rajpurohit,2012-12-06 The ecology of halophytes has a wide scope of interest appealing to people of many disciplines It covers widely different fields such as climatology soil science phytogeography adaptive biology and agriculture Ecologists study these specialized plants in relation to estuarine ecosystems biology of dominant genera germination ecology water relations salt secretion and senescence The present volume is divided into three parts and attempts to elucidate new aspects of the problems faced by this special group of plants It tries to give the reader an overall view of saline environments and the ecology of plants found therein In the first chapter of part one Zahran presents the halophytic vegetation of Egypt which includes the inland and the littoral Red Sea and Mediterranean Sea salt marshes The plants he describes have been classified as succulents excretives and cumulatives according to their adaptability to saline soils and according to their different life forms The second chapter throws light on the estuarine ecosystem of India The estuaries are described by Joshi and Bhosale as being rich in diversity of mangrove species Making varied use of estuarine ecosystems is not only possible but also essential because they are the meeting point between terrestrial and marine life
